Gambling Crackdown Held Here

Raids Take Place After Noon Today

Shortly after noon today raids were conducted by Kingston police and members of the staff of the district attorney's office on the following places where gambling operations were suspected:

P & E Trucking Co., 14-18 Field Court; EZW Confectionery, 672 Broadway; Ja-Mar Tavern, 30 Foxhall Avenue; Saccoman's Barber Shop, 610 Broadway.

The district attorney's office said this is one phase of a sweeping crackdown by local authorities on gambling in this area.

Some Quizzed

Several known gamblers and numbers runners have been brought in for questioning.

The grand jury is meeting at the State Armory on Friday to take testimony and subpoenaes have been served on between 40 and 50 witnesses.

The raids were the result of an intensive investigation which has been carried on for the past six months by the Kingston police working with the district attorney's office and the Ulster County investigator.

The investigation by the grand jury is continuing and any citizen having information concerning gambling is requested to contact the district attorney's office.

Headed for Century Mark

COL. G. F. CHANDLER

DR. HENRY W. KEATOR

Two leading citizens of Kingston are observing their birthdays today. They are Col. George Fletcher Chandler, retired surgeon and first superintendent of the New York State Police, and Dr. Henry W. Keator, retired physician and former medical director for Kingston City Schools.

Col. Chandler is 90 years old. He resides at the Governor Clinton Hotel. Born at Clyde, Wayne County, N. Y., he practiced medicine here in his younger days.

Dr. Keator of 14 Janet Street is 92 years old today. A native of Roxbury, Dr. Keator was also president of the Ulster-Greene Council Boy Scouts of America from 1938-43.

Both men are members of the honorary medical staff at Kingston Hospital.

Area in Second Day Of Real Winter Cold

The second day of chilling winter temperatures in Ulster County plunged readings downward as low as zero in the northern portions to 10 above in Kingston.

Zero was recorded 6 a. m. today at Blue Mountain Reservoir in the Town of Saugerties.

5 Plus at Rondout

The City Engineer's Office in Kingston reported an overnight low of 10 above. However, the Freeman thermometer at Rondout recorded an overnight low of 5 above zero.

Other Saugerties readings included 10 above on the Saugerties Savings and Loan Association thermometer in the village; 5 above on Esopus Creek Road, Oakledge, and 9 above at Centerville. Four above zero was reported along Esopus Creek at Glenerie early this morning. Browns Station at Ashokan Reservor reported 6 above.

Other plus readings were Woodstock 4; Tillson 10; Catskill 8, and Poughkeepsie Airport 4.

The Associated Press reported the temperatures in the state dropped to 15 below zero, and in some places residents battled an overnight snowfall of a foot and more.

Heavy Snowfall

Continuing squalls off Lake Erie plopped up to 12 inches of snow on counties south of Buffalo that were hard-hit earlier this week. Schools were closed in the Jamestown area and Cattaraugus and Southern Erie counties. Mayville, northwest of Jamestown, measured a new fall of 8 inches, for a total of 63 inches since Dec. 7, and the early-morning temperature there was 5 below.

The southwestern section of the Thruway, sealed off earlier by heavy snow, remained open today, but visibility was limited because of blowing snow. The same as true of other roads in the area.

Southeast of Lake Ontario, the city of Oswego was buried overnight in 14 inches of snow, and outside the city there was up to three feet from squalls that be-

Arborio Is Low Today On Bridge

Razing of Viaduct Could Start Soon

First definite action toward elimination of Kingston's main traffic bottleneck came today with the submission in Albany by John Arborio Inc. of Poughkeepsie, for construction of the Washington Avenue Arterial which includes razing of the crumbling Washington Avenue viaduct and construction of a new Esopus Creek bridge.

The bid of $729,255.50, was $118,744.50 under the state estimated cost of $848,000.

Two other bids were by I. & O. A. Slutzky, of Hunter, at $825,831.50, and the Shanahan Construction Co. Inc. of Ellenville at $842,557.20.

May Start in Month

Preliminary work could start in about a month. Arborio, contractor for the 209 bypass project now under construction west of the city, has heavy equipment in the area.

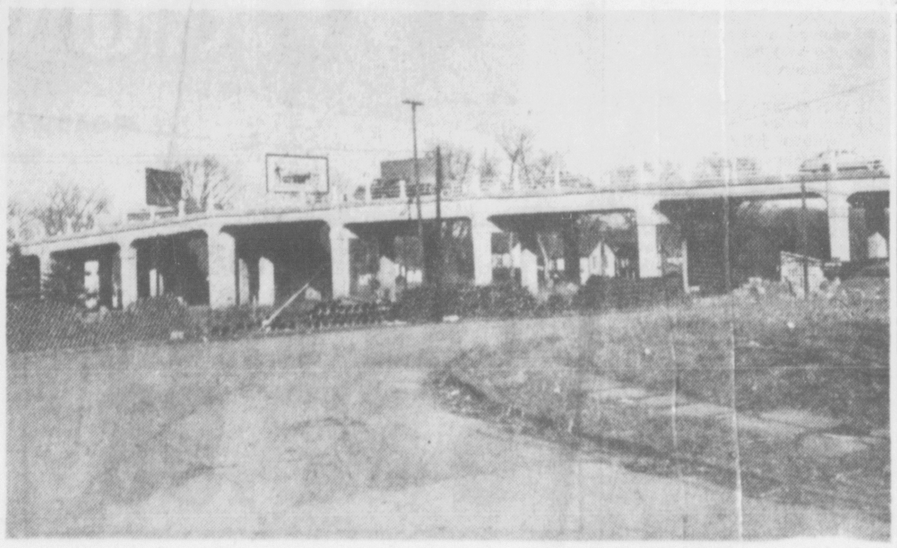

Arborio bid second low at $7,481,981.45 for construction of 7.02 miles of Interstate Route 84 in Dutchess County. The Lane Construction Co., Meriden, Conn., bid low on that at $7,161,923.05. Other bidders were S. J. Groves & Sons Inc., North Syracuse, at $8,885,755.95, and a joint bid by Colonial Asphalt Paving and the Mt. Vernon Construction Corp. at $9,914,880. The state estimated cost was $10,634,000.

Families Notified

Right-of-way acquisition for the Washington Avenue project began in October and families have been notified to vacate properties involved by Jan. 1.

The viaduct, opened to traffic on Sept. 2, 1914, has been eroding gradually through the years, and only last summer a section fell away on the west side. This was followed by the Aug. 28 col-

Vegetable Loss in Millions

Toll From Wintry Blasts Passes 100

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A tremendous mass of polar air dropped damagingly over the southernmost quarter of the country today, plunging temperatures below zero or slightly above in the heart of Dixie.

Mother Nature's turnabout produced these readings:

All Southland Chilled

Mt. Mitchell, N.C., —21; Crossville, Tenn., —18; London, Ky., —17; Bristol, Va., —8; Nashville, Tenn., and Bowling Green, Ky., —7; Asheville, N.C., —6; Louisville, Ky., —3; La Grange, Ga., —1; Atlanta, Ga., and Birmingham, Ala., 1; Roanoke, Va., and Charlotte, N.C., 2; Raleigh, N.C., 4; Macon, Ga., and Montgomery, Ala., 5; Jackson, Miss., Richmond, Va., and Charleston, S.C., 8; Savannah, Ga., 9; Mobile, Ala., and Wilmington, N.C., 10.

In Florida, snow and sleet fell and temperatures dropped to the lowest point of the century and dealt a killing blow to the state's lush orange, grapefruit and tangerine groves.

Tallahassee had 10, Appalachicola 14, Gainesville and Jacksonville 15, Tampa 18, West Palm Beach 33 and Miami 35.

'Drastically Affected'

The loss to winter vegetables already was reckoned in the millions of dollars. In the state's citrus belt—there are 600,000 acres of oranges, grapefruit and tangerines in Florida—it was said the crop would be "drastically affected."

Citrus growers operate generally on the theory that 27-degree readings for two hours will freeze most oranges and grapefruit and split young trees.

Deaths attributed to the Northeast's snowstorms and bitter cold earlier this week soared beyond 100. Damage to property was almost incalculable.

13 Dead in Georgia

In the South, unaccustomed to prolonged, bitter cold, deaths from fires caused by overheated stoves began to take their toll. Georgia counted 13 such fatalities today.

From the Southland, northward, temperatures moderated. In the Midwest and Southwest readings were mostly in the teens today. Along the northern tier of states, in the Northeast and in New England, temperatures hovered around zero and below.

Snow Still Pounds NE

Blizzard-like snow squalls again poured down off Lake Erie into upper New York State amid subzero temperatures. Mayville, N.Y. now had 63 inches of snow on the ground—all since Dec. 7. Up to 12 inches of new snow fell early today. Some New York readings included —15 at Booneville, —10 at Massena and 13 in New York City, another record for the day.

At Ludington, Mich., a blizzard that reduced visibility to 50 feet forced the last of Mason County's schools to close because of the snow and cold. Ludington now has 48 inches of snow on the ground and a new fall of 4 to 6 inches was forecast tonight.

Parts of Pennsylvania got 1 to 2 inches of snow overnight. In Pittsburgh the mercury dropped to —5, but Corry, Pa., had 8.

JFK Would Leave Stevenson And Crisis on Cuba to History

By WHITNEY SHOEMAKER

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy tried again to close the book on the Adlai Stevenson chapter in the Cuban crisis. He said it should be left to history "when the whole record will be spread out in great detail."

But he said he thought that after having read various statements of the past 10 days "any historian—and I think this matter should be left to historians—who walks through this mine field of charges and countercharges, should proceed with some care."

Covers Many Subjects

The President in his news conference Wednesday touched on many subjects — including the Mona Lisa and a record spoofing the First Family. But the questions kept returning to Cuba and Stevenson.

The President again endorsed the U.N. ambassador saying: "The fact of the matter is that Gov. Stevenson renders very distinguished service. He has done an excellent job at the United Nations."

But the President left up in the air who in the administration may have given two reporters information portraying Stevenson as urging appeasement during Cuban crisis conferences of the National Security Council's executive committee.

Not From Council

The president said: "It is my judgment that this statement or interpretation of Gov. Stevenson's position did not come from a member of the National Security Council. I satisfied myself on that. I never heard anyone characterize Stevenson's position in that way and I am satisfied myself that no one did."

He added there were other people who might have. But that, he said, is a matter for reporters—"A matter that, as I say, I think can much better be left to history when the whole record will be spread out in great detail."

Loses Effect

Kennedy was asked: "You don't know, then, who leaked it?"

"No, I don't know who," he replied, "and I think it is unfortunate if anybody discusses any matter that cor..... before the National Security Council because I think it lessens its effectiveness."

The tempest blew up over an article in the Saturday Evening Post, written by Washington newsmen Stewart Alsop and Charles Bartlett, which gave an account of the council's deliberations during the crisis and the positions various members took.

Stevenson has denounced the account of his position as untrue

George E. Sokolsky, Veteran Writer, Dies While Phoning

NEW YORK (AP) — Veteran columnist George E. Sokolsky, 69, died Wednesday night in his Manhattan apartment. A leading spokesman for American conservatism, his writings appeared in 229 newspapers across the country.

Plagued by heart trouble, diabetes and the cancer to which he had lost a kidney, Sokolsky succumbed in the study of his home while making a phone call. His daughter, Mrs. Donald Feuerstein, was with him when he was stricken. His wife, Dorothy, was in another room.

Mr. Sokolsky's column "These Days" has appeared on the editorial page of The Kingston Daily Freeman for many years.

He also addressed gatherings in the area down through the years.

Foe of Communism

A relentless foe of domestic and international Communism, the bushy-haired Sokolsky drew from a world of experience in writing his six-day-a-week column and in a varied career that included stints as a radio commentator and lecturer.

He had been in Russia during the early struggles for political power that culminated in Communism's victory there, and he worked for many years in China.

Graduating from Columbia University in 1917, he went on a globe-trotting tour that took him through revolution-racked Russia and restless China, where he finally settled down in 1920 to a 10-year stint as a political corres-

Wilson and Bush File for 4-Lane Road to Bridge

Assemblyman Kenneth L. Wilson today announced that he is pre-filing a bill in the Assembly and Senator E. Ogden Bush is pre-filing one in the Senate for the construction of a new four-lane highway from the west end of the Mid-Hudson Bridge to Route 9W.

Assemblyman Wilson attended a meeting Tuesday with New York State Superintendent of Public Works J. Burch McMorran and Dr. John L. Edwards, chairman of the New York State Bridge Authority, at which time several details relating to this new roadway were resolved.

An act of the legislature is required before the highway can be constructed as the road is now under the jurisdiction of the New York State Department of Public Works, and the Bridge Authority desires to move their toll collection booths to the Ulster County side of the Hudson River and expand the toll plazas to six lanes. This improvement on the west side of the river will speed up the movement of traffic over the Mid-Hudson Bridge.

Tito Upholds Kremlin

Agrees on Cuba Stand, to Irk Peking

MOSCOW (AP)—President Tito of Yugoslavia addressed the Soviet Parliament today and approved Soviet Premier Khrushchev's handling of the Cuban crisis. This seemed certain to increase Communist Chinese anger at the Soviet leadership.

The Yugoslav leader, expelled from the Communist fold as a "deviationist" by Stalin in 1948, told the Supreme Soviet that Kremlin and Yugoslav points of view "on all major international questions coincide or are close to each other."

No Berlin Deadline: Gromyko

Tito's appearance followed an address by Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko in which, echoing Khrushchev's major policy speech, he suggested the U.S.S.R. wanted to negotiate a settlement of the West Berlin issue. He said Moscow is setting no deadline.

The 1,443-member Supreme Soviet wound up its four-day session by approving a sweeping reorganization of the Soviet economic structure and accepting the U.S.S.R. 86.6-billion-ruble budget for the ensuing year. The Parliament approved Khrushchev's moves to consolidate economic controls in a newly created National Economic Council. It also approved Khrushchev's "peaceful coexistence" policies.

Gromyko told the Supreme Soviet, in the presence of Premier Khrushchev and President Tito of Yugoslavia, that the Soviet Union is prepared to continue an exchange of opinions with the West on a solution of the German problem.

Treaty Is Ultimate

While saying no time limit was placed on such negotiations, he said the Communist powers ultimately would sign a separate peace treaty with Communist East Germany if the Western powers refused to come to an agreement.

"But we will not count the pages of the calendar," he said.

Gromyko repeated the proposal by Khrushchev Wednesday to replace the Western Allies' troops in West Berlin with the flag of the United Nations.

He said that after a treaty is signed and the Allied troops are out of West Berlin, the Soviet Union would give guarantees for the city's independence.

Gromyko said Soviet guarantees of West Berlin's independence

Road Flagman, Two Women Hurt As Car Overturns

A State Thruway Authority flagman and two Kew Gardens, Queens, women were injured shortly after 2:50 p. m. Wednesday in a motor vehicle mishap which occurred on the Thruway near Mile Post 81, Town of Rosendale.

Thruway troopers reported the 1962 foreign car involved in the accident was owned by Minikka G. Grunwald, 22, of 81-10 135th Street, Queens, and operated by her sister, Barbara, 27, of the same address.

The car was traveling north when the operator pulled out to pass a Thruway maintenance truck, and as she observed an oncoming car she turned sharply to the right and the foreign car overturned, troopers said.

As the vehicle rolled over on the pavement it struck James E. Roebuck, 31, Box 108, Walker Valley, a flagman employed by the Thruway Authority maintenance department. Troopers said Roebuck tried to run to avoid being hit, but the small car struck him.

Roebuck was taken to Kingston Hospital by Fatum's Ambulance Service. He suffered a

Talks May Hold Fate of Skybolt Missile Argument

WASHINGTON (AP)—The fate of the Skybolt missile program, subject of the hottest U.S.-British argument in years, hangs precariously on next week's meeting between President Kenndy and Prime Minister Harold Macmillan—and this country's military budget.

Tentative American plans to give up on the expensive missile—around which Britain has shaped its nuclear strategy—has brought a sharp reaction from Britain and put a strain on the alliance.

When asked about the Skybolt dispute at his news conference Wednesday, Kennedy spokes cautiously.

Nearing Magic Moment

Mariner II Ready for Look at Venus

By JOHN BARBOUR
Associated Press Science Writer

WASHINGTON (AP)—Mariner II now approaches its magic moment in space. The frail, bug-like explorer—seared by the nearness of the sun—is ready for a first, close look at a neighbor planet, earth's cloud-veiled sister Venus.

At 3:10 p.m. (EST) Friday Mariner is to pass some 20,000 miles from Venus—give or take a few thousand miles.

For half an hour its instruments will measure radio and heat radiations from below the dense clouds that hide the planet from sight.

It is an historic moment in man's probing farther and farther into his solar system. Even now a Soviet space probe is pushing toward Mars for a closer look at that planet.

Mariner has weathered a series of troubles, but with one of its solar panels out of operation, it is about to complete its mission.

Mariner is already holder of all records for long distance radio communication through space. When it reports back from Venus, it will set a new record—radio signals from a man-made device 36 million miles away.

This all began on Aug. 27 when an Atlas-Agena B rocket complex boosted Mariner into space.

On Oct. 31, almost 12 million miles from earth, Mariner radioed that its power production had dropped. Technicians guessed that one of the solar panels, which convert sunlight into electricity, had developed a short circuit. They commanded Mariner to cease its electricity-consuming science experiments while they pondered the problem.

On Nov. 7, they decided to renew the experiments, since they seemed to be getting enough power from the remaining solar panel. Suddenly the short-solar panel began operating again, and technicians decided the short-circuit had corrected itself. The next day they turned the experiments on again.

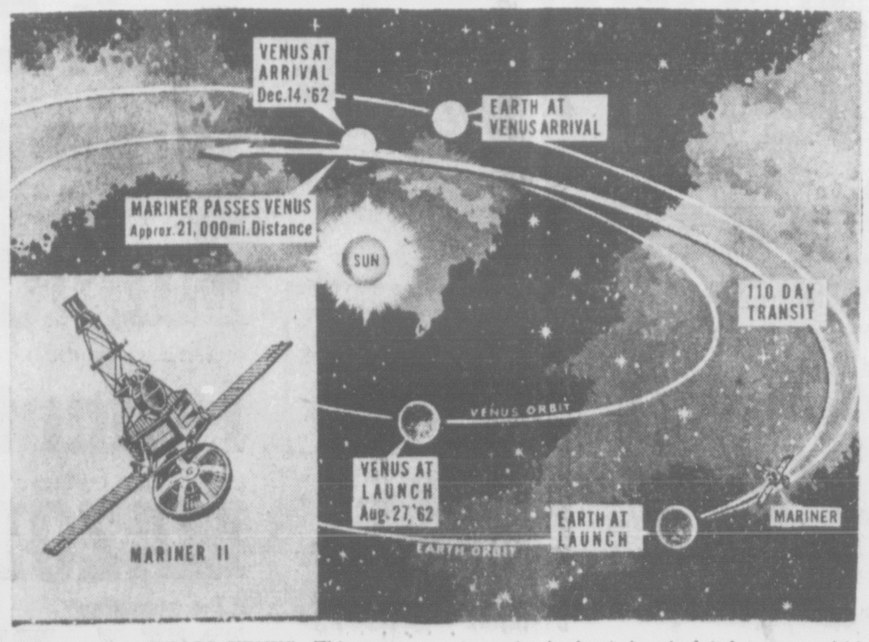

On Nov. 15, a solar panel went out again. Mariner continues on one solar panel.

Toward the end of November, temperatures on the sunward face of the solar panels were up to 200 degrees Fahrenheiht, with spacecraft temperatures 100 degrees on the shady side. By Friday, experts estimate temperatures on the solar panels will reach 250 degrees.

In spite of all the troubles, Mariner has already earned its keep. It has measured the climate of space on its 182-million mile journey.

Instruments showed that there is a continual wind of sparse, but fast-moving, particles blowing from the sun. Most of the solar particles were traveling between 850,000 and 1,550,000 miles an hour.

A few particles were found to be traveling nearly three million miles an hour.

MARINER II NEARS VENUS—This newschart shows the projected flight pattern of the Mariner II spacecraft, launched from Cape Canaveral last Aug. 27. The 447-pound craft, shown in the inset, is scheduled to pass within 22,000 miles of Venus on Dec. 24, and scientists hope the instruments will send back to earth information about the planet. Glancing Over TV

CBS Presents 9 Of 10 Popular Shows of Season

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—As the television season rumbles along, it becomes increasingly evident that the CBS network, programming heavily in big star names and comedy, has estimated accurately the public's taste.

CBS, powerful as a bulldozer, presents nine of the 10 most popular shows listed in the most recent Nielsen ratings, plus 18 of the top 20. This establishes some sort of a network record.

The Nielsen top 10—based on estimates of audiences between Nov. 11 through 25—are, in order, the comedy phenomenon "Beverly Hillbillies," the Red Skelton hour, "Candid Camera," "Ben Casey," "Lucy," the Danny Thomas show, Jack Benny, the Andy Griffith show, "Gunsmoke," and "I've Got a Secret." Sole non-CBS show on the list is ABC's "Ben Casey."

Nine of the top 20 shows are comedy, three are game or panel shows and only two are Westerns ("Bonanza," NBC's only top-20 entry, was number 13).

If nothing else, the list indicates what the average viewer asks of television: light, painless entertainment.

Major disappointment of the week was "The Court-Martial of Captain Wycliff," on NBC's "Dick Powell Show" Tuesday night. It started off powerfully—a military trial of a war hero charged with shooting down a scientist who determined to go over to this nation's enemies.

But the hour resolved itself into the usual whodunit debate—whether the captain murdered the traitor or not. The wind-up was most unsatisfactory: the captain confessed he had not murdered, but "executed" him. It was as if the author, having gotten all tangled up in a moral question of homicide, couldn't find any way to finish the script.

Recommended tonight: "The Way from Darkness," ABC, 10-11 (EST) — drama on "Premier Theatre" starring Shelly Winters and Joan Hackett as two lonely, unhappy sisters; "Bonfire," CBS, 10-11—Peter Falk and Dina Merrill in an "Alfred Hitchcock Hour" tale of suspense.

Says Back Broken Of Rebel Revolt In North Borneo

LABUAN, North Borneo (AP)—British troops pushed out from regained towns in Brunei and northwest Sarawak today chasing rebel bands seeking refuge in dense jungles and swamps.

Local British commanders were concerned that the rebels, whose strength still is unknown, would attempt to organize a long guerrilla war from swampland hideouts.

Several hundred tribesmen from the interior of Sarawak, responding to an ancient hostility to the rebel coastal dwellers, were reported prowling the Brunei-Sarawak border areas in an effort to cut off rebel bands.

However, Lt. Gen. Sir Nigel Poett, commander of British Far East land forces, declared after a visit to operations areas that the possibility of rebel guerrilla resistance already was remote after only six days of revolt.

"We have broken the back of the rebellion," he said.

He pointed out that the rebels, who wanted to set up an independent state composed of the Brunei sultanate and the two neighboring crown colonies of Sarawak and North Borneo, were armed only with shotguns and a few rifles.

Phone Employes Will Again Give Christmas Dolls

A number of underprivileged children in the Kingston area will be made happy on Christmas by receiving a doll, thanks to Mrs. Mary DiCandia who originated the idea of having women employes of the New York Telephone Company fix and dress dolls to be given away at Christmas.

The idea originated in Kingston several years ago when Mrs. DiCandia, a telephone company employe, started the move. Since then each year women employes bought or fixed up old dolls, dress them and restore them for distribution to worthy children.

Presently some of the dolls to be given away are one display in the window of the Ulster County Savings Institution on Wall Street. The display will remain at the banking house until Dec. 20 and is attracting considerable attention.

Thant Heartened By Pay Decision, Acts on Tshombe

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—Heartened by strong support for his appeal to U.N. members to pay their share of the Congo debt, Secretary-General U Thant summoned his advisory committee today to consider tough new steps against Katanga.

The 110-nation budgetary committee voted 75-17 with 14 abstentions to accept a World Court opinion that U.N. members are legally bound to pay assessments for such special peacekeeping operations as the U.N. Congo force.

The committee's action assured approval by the General Assembly. That will provide a legal basis for moves to suspend voting rights of nations that are two years behind in their assessments. However, both the Soviet Union and France have said they will ignore the assembly action, and it seemed most unlikely the assembly would ever take the vote away from two of the five permanent members of the organization.

The committee vote was seen as a victory for Thant, who declared that the United Nations cannot survive as an effective instrument unless members help pay off the $130-million Congo debt.

It was also a triumph for the United States and Britain, who sponsored the resolution with 17 other nations. Both powers warned that defeat of the measure might force them to reconsider their positions as major financial contributors to the United Nations.

Peter Stuyvesant was known as the "One-legged Governor."

Mayville Ponders New Fall, Snow Totals 63 Inches

MAYVILLE, N.Y. (AP)—"The snow plows have pushed the snow back about as far as it can go."

That's how Deputy Max Sliter of the Chautauqua County sheriff's office described the severity of a 63-inch snow deluge in this community in the last week.

"If this doesn't quit, we're going to be in pretty bad shape," he said today.

Sliter said his office calculates daily snowfall from 9 a.m. until 9 a.m. the following day. He listed these daily snowfall figures for Mayville since a week ago:

Dec. 7, 7 inches; Dec. 8, 5½; Dec. 9, 0; Dec. 10, 7½; Dec. 11, 14; Dec. 12, 13; and Dec. 13, 16.

THE QUIET TRIUMPH

So quietly and steadily is it at work that it is a surprise even to those who are a part of it to realize just how far the Peace Corps has come since it was created by presidential executive order March 1, 1961 (later permanently established by act of Congress).

On its first birthday, the corps had 700 workers in the field. At the 18th-month mark, there were 4,000 volunteers assigned or ready to be assigned in 43 different countries. Next year there will be 10,000 volunteers in 50 countries.

Emphasis currently is being placed on Latin America. At the end of the first year there were only 122 volunteers in three Latin American countries. This is now up to 13 countries; by next June the corps will have 2,500 volunteers in Latin America.

So successful has the Peace Corps been that requests for volunteers are nearly 10 times greater than the number that will be available next year. Although they are not asked to do so, every host nation has contributed funds and equipment to crops projects.

Most amazing thing of all is that of the first 2,500 volunteers, only 25 withdrew. Only 10 candidates were definite failures. There have been only a couple of minor, though well-publicized, incidents reflecting on the corps.

The Peace Corps is the best response so far to President Kennedy's sometimes boomeranging motto about asking what you can do for your country. The service is frequently rugged, at least by American standards (yet over 300 volunteers are older than 50), and the pay is low.

But already an unexpected dividend has come to these people, over and above the personal satisfaction gained from the job. Because of their overseas experience, ex-corpsmen and women are being sought out to be teachers or to work in industry and some government agencies.

The Communists have nothing comparable to the Peace Corps. As with the European Common Market, which started as a dream and now poses the single greatest block to Communist expansion in Western Europe and an embarrassing reminder of Marxist economic failure at home, the Soviets may one day find a far-flung Peace Corps standing between them and the world poverty and unrest they feed upon.

It costs an average of $9,000 to train, transport and maintain one Peace Corps volunteer, a fraction of the cost of keeping a soldier abroad.

American missiles and GIs are guarding the peace, but unarmed Americans are helping to shorten the time they will be necessary. The Peace Corps' greatest triumph will be when the Russians want to imitate it.

CHEATING BROUGHT CURB

Quite a barrage of indignation has been leveled at the Internal Revenue Service because of its regulations to implement the new law curbing expense account deductions for income tax purposes. Some of the criticism has been justified, since the rules first proposed were so detailed as to be an intolerable nuisance.

The rules are being modified. That is good. It ought to be kept in mind, however, that the rules would not have been necessary at all if there had not been a lot of outright cheating of the government.

In many cases of abuse it was not a matter of finding loopholes in the law; it was, rather, a matter of simply violating the law by throwing in all sorts of luxuries as "business expenses," luxuries that often had nothing to do with business.

That is why the IRS, at the direction of Congress, is cracking down on the expense account deductions. This should not be forgotten.

THE ECUMENICAL SPIRIT

Now that the first session of the Ecumenical Council has closed in Rome, one wonders whether it was worth-while, whether it accomplished anything. Such a Council as this deals in imponderables, in men's beliefs, in what they believe to be true. It is a task of the truly great to overcome bigotry, prejudice, traditional hatreds.

The fact that Protestant observers were present throughout the Council meetings and were accepted as brethren, is something new in Roman Catholicism, overcoming on both sides the prejudices of five centuries. The fact that Pope John XXIII received a body of Buddhist monks was something altogether new for a Pope and for the monks. It had never happened before. But what is more, the Pope did not say to them that he was at the head of the only true church; rather, he took the position that both sides were engaged in the same task, namely, saving men for God. He did not say that his was a better God than theirs, for how can a Christian believe that there is more than one God? And how can he believe that God is insensible to any of His children?

This, too, is new in Western Christianity. It is a recognition of the world as it is with its differences. One need not compromise his beliefs while holding out his hand to others who think differently. Thus, in Catholic churches throughout the world there will henceforth be an increase in the use of the vernacular. In the churches in the United States, more English will be used. It will take time for some to get used to the change and some will always oppose it. On the other hand, it is bound to come because it is the clear intention of a majority of the church authorities that the Roman Church should come closer to the people.

Thus, already an effort is being made for increased lay participation in the affairs of the Church. Of course, the Protestants and the Jews have always had lay participation and in some sects the clergy are subordinate to elected lay church officials. The Roman Catholic Church has benefited greatly by having a host of men and women who attend to its affairs at small or no pay but their keep and who are available for church work, unhampered by personal responsibilities, all hours of the day and night.

When the Western World was less developed, only the clergy could read and write and really only they had knowledge of philosophy, history and even, to a degree, science. Today, when all may be able to read and write, when there is a greater access to knowledge and intellectual discipline, it is impossible to impose intellectual attitudes without greater recognition of lay participation in some decisions. This does not necessarily mean secularism. Moreover, the image of this new phase in the Roman Catholic approach to the rest of the world must have lay participation if laymen of other faiths are to understand it at all.

Will this affect the loyalty of Catholics to their church? Will they be less loyal as more of them associate with those who are not Catholics? Will those who believe in greater lay participation have to assume that because the Pope finds it possible to be a brother of all human beings without regard to race, color or creed, he has let down the guards against marriage outside the church or will it increase the number of backsliders?

This is a problem that the Roman Catholic Church faces and it challenges the competence of its priests. But an interesting phenomenon is taking place among Jews which may give some indication to trends. For such trends tend to be universal. My generation of Jews in this country tended to favor increased assimilation; the next up-coming generations, that is, those now in their 20's, seem to have returned to their faith despite their parents. Such social phenomena are not always explainable when they occur, but it is becoming clear that the religious rather than the ethnological Jew is in the ascendant.

The Roman Catholic Church may have the same experience as a result of the Ecumenical Council. It may take time for adjustment, but the challenge has been launched and its effect may be revolutionary. It is an event in a revolutionary era.

Eat Roughage According To Your Personal Need

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.
Written for Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

If you have true constipation you may need relief not because constipation causes headache, sluggishness, or any other general symptoms, as was once believed, but because it makes it difficult or painful for you to pass your stool.

You may choose to use a small enema. If so it is best not to use more than one cupful (8 ounces) of plain warm water. Some people can learn to give such an enema to themselves. All that is needed is a colon tube and a funnel rather than the clumsy enema bag. The important part of this treatment is to hold the enema after the tube has been removed for at least five minutes.

If it is passed immediately after it is introduced, it may be returned without emptying the rectum. On the other hand, too large an enema will empty part of the colon as well and, like a laxative, bring away material not yet due for evacuation.

Plain glycerine suppositories can be bought in infant or adult sizes. They must be kept in a cool place. They are easy to introduce into the rectum and should be held there for at least 12 minutes. With proper regulation of the diet, it should be necessary to use an enema or suppository only very rarely. Dependency on either of these measures as a routine is to be avoided.

This brings us to the matter of roughage, the indigestible cellulose found in fruit and vegetables. It is well to remember that these foods should not be eaten according to your appetite but according to your personal need. The amount you need you must learn for yourself. Some persons can eat eight or nine helpings of fruit and vegetables daily. For others, one skimpy helping in 24 hours may be too much.

In general, ounce for ounce, a helping of raw fruit or vegetable has the natural laxative effect of two helpings of cooked foods. Thus one raw apple equals roughly two helpings of apple sauce. Remember too that a cupful of strained orange juice contains little if any roughage. For its natural laxative effect you must peel and eat the orange.

Having determined how much vegetable and fruit you need daily in order to have a firm bowel movement, it is important to take as nearly as possible the same amount of roughage every day. Only in this way can you establish regular bowel habits.

If you find the stools becoming too hard you must make a small increase in the amount of roughage in your diet, not just for today but for every day. If the stools are a little loose you must cut the amount of roughage.

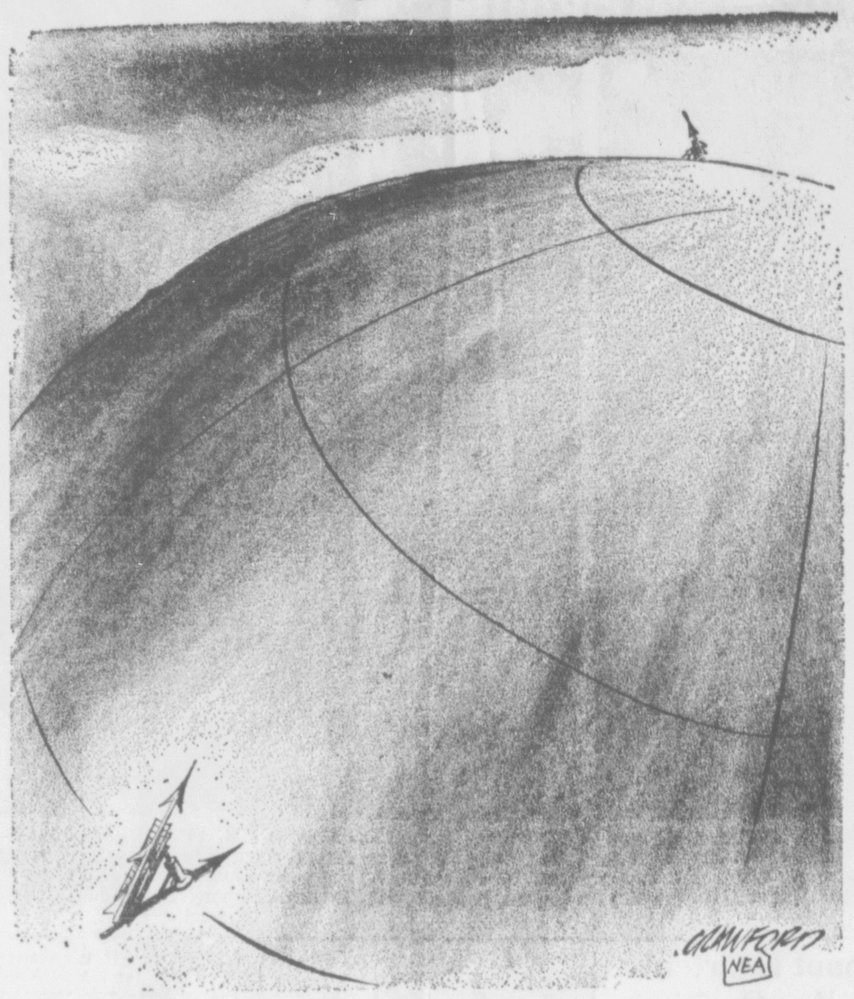

It is commonly believed that certain foods such as milk, cheese, and toast are constipating and that they should be avoided if you are bothered with constipation. This is a fallacy that has caused many people to limit their selection of foods unnecessarily.

What I have said about constipation sounds so simple, many persons probably will not believe it. But it has been shown to work for hundreds of patients I have known.

BY BRUCE BIOSSAT
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — The impressive fact about United States employment and unemployment figures is that they have not changed materially since July.

Except for one brief month at 4.9 per cent, the unemployment rate nationally has not been below 5 per cent for 60 months.

THE PERSISTENCE of this unwanted stability helps to explain why President Kennedy is now putting such great store by his 1963 tax cut proposals.

The offering of this program, say White House sources, will mark a sharp turning point in the President's attack on our slow-growing economy.

His feeling is said to be that the time is at hand for bolder, broader measures to place the economy on a far-freer footing. Not since the 1948 slash in income levies has there been any really basic reduction.

The hope in the White House, naturally, is that adoption of the President's proposals, details of which still are only being guessed at by outsiders, would elevate the whole economy to a much sunnier plateau than we now inhabit.

Early rumblings from Capitol Hill suggest the Kennedy tax program may have very hard going. But he is reported arming against critics who may question a big tax cut in the face of sizeable deficits.

THE ANSWERING White House argument could run like this:

If we don't take the risk of enlarged deficits in an "interim" period while we shift to brand new tax ground rules, we could run the risk of having to endure endless smaller deficits.

These, in one official's view, are symptomatic of the nation's economic lag, with its painful consequences in unemployment.

Major tax reduction, he asserts, could be in the nature of at least a partial cure—with bigger dificits part of the medicine.

The White House will, of course, resist any opposition effort to meet the deficit problem by whacking huge chunks off the next federal budget.

THE ADMINISTRATION does not see the tax cut plan as an admission that other attempts to reduce joblessness are failures. It considers area redevelopment, general manpower retraining, and the $400 million public works program as specialized assaults which can deal effectively with parts of the problem.

Some labor economists here view these programs, however, as not much more than drops in the bucket.

The cyclical upswing which began in March 1961 trimmed unemployment levels considerably in such chronically distressed places as Huntington and Wheeling in West Virginia, and Erie, Johnstown and Wilkes-Barre in Pennsylvania.

Yet in every one of these spots except Erie ,which is down to 6 per cent, the unemployment rates persist at levels from 9.6 to 13 per cent. Hard-pressed Scranton is up to 10.5 per cent from 9.8 in January 1961, near the recession's trough.

ONE SKEPTICAL EXPERT concludes from such figures that only some big approach, firing up the entire economy by boosting both consumer demand and business investment, can make a dent on the depressed areas.

The White House offers the tax cut plan as a big approach. parties may be hard to persuade that the large knife should not be applied to spending first and taxes second.

Challenging Reasons Given For Opposing '63 Tax Cut

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON, Dec. 13 — Maybe the stock market did break on Monday as reported in news dispatches, because of the statement of chairman Wilbur D. Mills of the House Ways and Means Committee that he is opposed to a tax cut now, or maybe it was for some other reason. But the fact is the chairman of the tax-writing committee of congress has stated the case against a tax cut in a such a way as to cause considerable debate here, too, especially since President Kennedy previously had announced that under certain conditions he would propose a reduction in the next session of congress.

Mr. Mills said that he "could not go along with the idea that you just cut taxes without regard to the deficit that is created." He insisted that tax cuts should be accompanied by tax "reform" and that the earliest date to expect such reform would be in January 1964.

Many Welcome Statement

It's quite possible, of course, that the administration may welcome the statement by Mr. Mills, because it could get officials out of a dilemma created for them when the prospects for business looked worse than they do today. Perhaps now, as business conditions seem to be improving, there will be less enthusiasm for the tax cut even inside the administration.

But the reasons given by Chairman Mills against a tax cut are challenging that unquestionably some people who invest in the stock market took his remarks to mean that the expected inflation might not now materialize. This would account, of course, for the decline, which happened to be the most severe in several weeks. Once a definite trend is established and somebody in an influential position comes along who questions it, fears arise that the trend will not be continued.

The outstanding fact is that business conditions are getting somewhat better ,and Mr. Mills uses the argument that has often been employed before—namely, the time to reduce taxes is when business is bad and not when business is good. He expressed his views in a copyrighted interview in the current issue of "U. S. News & World Report." Here is an excerpt from that interview:

"Q. Mr. Mills, what can you tell us now about your attitude toward tax cuts in 1963?

"A. The attitude that I have at the moment about a tax cut effective Jan. 1, 1963, is one of serious concern.

"Earlier this year, when we were thinking in terms of whether the economy was dipping to the point that required some stimulus through immediate tax reduction, we decided not to do it then, as you know. The issue was left open so that a new look could be taken later on as to whether or not the economy was performing in such a way as to justify the creation of additional deficit by tax reduction alone.

"Q. What do you think is indicated now as to the need for a tax cut?

Little Justification

"A. The situation, as I view it at this time from the point of view of the economy as a whole, on the basis of information coming to me from business and government sources, would indicate that there has not been a deterioration in our economy and that there probably will not be a deterioration during the early part of 1963. On the basis of that projection, it would seem that there probably would be little justification at the moment for a 'quickie' tax cut effective Jan. 1, 1963.

"Q. Do you mean that tax reduction is not necessary to maintain a strong economy?

"A. At this time, in my opinion, a 'quickie' tax cut doesn't seem to be.

"Q. How do you feel about the argument that present tax rates are so high that they keep business from reaching a level at which there would be full employment?

"A. That is probably true in the long run. But, on the basis of today's situation—the existing level of economic activity and personal income, numbers employed and other factors that could be mentioned—I question the need of an immediate tax cut for purposes of stimulating the present level of economic activity. Especially do I take that view when the net result would be to reduce revenues substantially in the year 1963 when they are already, without any reduction, apparently less than the rate of spending that may be projected in the budget for fiscal year 1964.

"Q. How do you react to the idea of cutting taxes without regard to the deficit that might result?

"A. I can't go along with the idea that you just cut taxes without regard to the deficit that is created. I think we have to look at many factors. All of us are aware of the desirability at any time of reducing the tax burdens upon the people. But, on the other hand, we have to take into account the effect on our public debt, whether or not we are providing those reductions in taxes out of a surplus of revenue.

"Q. Are there any conditions in which you would favor cutting taxes even though it might mean a bigger deficit?

"A. If we were going into a depression, perhaps we would actually incur less deficit in the long run and less debt in the long run by doing everything we could to stop a depression—that is, minimizing its depth and the extent of the downturn. If we created additional deficit then—say it was $10 billion—we might avoid a deficit of $25 or $30 billion that would result from a depression.

"Q. Are you saying that such a tax cut should await the actual onset of a recession and not be based on forecasts?

"A. I doubt that you could sell a tax cut alone for purposes of trying to do something to the economy until it's generally discernible that a downturn is coming."

Certainly there are indications that maybe the economic picture has altered for the better, and it's possible that the whole problem of tax changes will be concentrated instead on tax reform—which, of course, is long overdue.

Do You Remember by Sophie Miller

Mrs. Edith Hendry of 89 Abruyn Street, Kingston, N. Y. sent me some interesting items, on Ulster Academy which her cousin, and his friend, Ed. Johnston of Schenectady, N. Y. requested. Mrs. Hendry writes further: "I rarely miss reading your column but may have missed a few when my husband and I took a trip to Los Angeles, Calif., last spring."

Mrs. Hendry continues: "We visited my cousin, the former Gertrude Elmendorf who is a Kingston native. One time you mentioned her father, Charles Elmendorf who escaped a landslide in East Kingston. He was a carpenter and contractor and I believe built a number of the old houses in Ponckhockie. We went out to the coast on the National Trailways and returned east with our cousins by car. Had a wonderful trip. If you have no further use for those papers on the Spanish War, that belongs to Mr. Finley, I'll ask my nephew to call for them. With the best of good wishes for the holidays . . ."

It is interesting to read her item on the Ulster Academy which she writes was built in 1870 and enlarged in 1886 for it is, I presume, going to house at least temporarily our community college, this coming year. Mrs. Hendry writes: "Ulster Academy, located on Academy Hill, better known to present day Kingstonians as West Chestnut Street, originally accommodated nearly 900 students and 21 teachers. At the turn of the century it was the largest school in the county and considered one of the finest regents schools in the state. The school library alone contained nearly 1500 volumes and was open to the citizens of that school districts."

Mrs. Hendry continues: "Its first academic class was graduated in 1881. Many of its alumni have occupied prominent positions in local community life. Still others have gone on to hold positions of national prominence. Ulster Academy's three story structure was occupied on the first and second floors by elementary grade students. The third story was occupied by the secondary school students."

She further adds: "In 1916, the school was used entirely for elementary school students when the newly erected Kingston High School was opened and absorbed the secondary school students of both, Ulster Academy and Kingston Academy. Since that time, its identity has been changed to what is presently known as Public School No. 2. The first principal was William E. Bunting." She says this information she took from a picture of Ulster Academy issued by Savings and Loan Association, Kingston, 1956.

She adds that more information can be had from the "People's History" by William De Witt. The banks no doubt long ago realized when they add historical pictures and information to their calendars local citizens keep and enjoy those items for many years, long after the calendar has outlived its usefulness.

I just ran across a throw-away advertisement on Yale Law School, New Haven, Conn., dated 1865. At the time the "whole course of instruction" took two years, and students could enter at any time, with no previous preparation required. The whole course of two years cost $150 and for one year $80 and for less than one year $10 per month. Board could be had in boarding houses at $5 per week and in clubs for $3 and rooms could be had for $30 per annum.

Can Be Tough or Gentle

Cannon Calls Things the Way He Sees Them in U. S. House

By WILLIAM F. ARBOGAST

WASHINGTON (AP) — They may come tougher than Clarence Cannon, but it's hard to find them.

He's the cantankerous Democrat who lambasted his own House leadership in the closing hours of the last session so bitterly that the Republican leader took the floor to say some kind words about Speaker John McCormack.

The 83-year-old Missouri Congressman, who heads the House Appropriations Committee, is a man of many facets. Depending on his mood and the occasion, he can be as tenacious as a bulldog, as stubborn as a Missouri mule, or as gentle as the doting grandpa that he is.

140-Pounder

A small man physically — he weighs around 140 pounds—Cannon makes up in grit for what he lacks in heft. His physical encounters during a span of almost 40 years in the House include minor fisticuffs with such colleagues as former Rep. John Phillips of California and Rep. John Taber of New York, Republicans, and former Sen. Kenneth McKellar of Tennessee, a Democrat.

These sparring matches occurred over differences on government money bills, all of which clear through Cannon's hands.

Warns on Deficits

During his more than 30 years on the Appropriations Committee, Cannon has helped shell out billions of dollars of the taxpayers' money, and has cut billions from recommended appropriations. He warns continuously of the dangers of overspending and the evils of deficit financing.

As tight as he is with the public's money, Cannon is somewhat loose with his own, especially with silver dollars. He has shelled out hundreds of them to children whom he encounters in the course of his official meanderings.

With each silver dollar goes the admonition that if the recipient holds on to it "you will never go broke."

Cannon is mentally as well as physically agile—and he can hold a grudge or forget it.

Calls Leaders Inept

At the end of the recent session of Congress he unleashed a tirade against the Democratic House leadership in general and Speaker McCormack in particular. He described the leadership as the most "biased and inept" he had seen during his long years of service.

Only a few minutes later, he stood and applauded as the House adopted a resolution praising McCormack's "able, impartial and dignified" handling of the speakership.

Cannon was personally close to the late Speaker Sam Rayburn of Texas, although Rayburn privately conceded that at times he found Cannon extremely difficult to get along with legislatively.

"Stubborn" and "bullheaded" were words Rayburn used on occasion to described Cannon's attitude.

Friend in Need

But when the chips were down during Democratic national conventions, Rayburn at times found in Cannon a real friend in need. As chairman of many conventions, Rayburn always insisted that Cannon serve as parliamentarian. Conventions can get out of hand without a presiding officer and a shrewd parliamentarian with a working knowledge of precedents and the procedural "ropes".

On more than one occasion Cannon dipped into his bag of parliamentary gimmicks when the going got rough. He could somehow manage to cite a precedent for almost anything Rayburn wanted to do as chairman.

Rayburn once confessed after a turbulent convention session that he didn't know where Cannon found the precedents and doubted if they actually existed.

"If he can't find them, he'll make them," the late speaker commented.

Whites Legislative 'Bible'

Probably no one is more experienced in legislative precedent than is Cannon. He wrote many of the House rules—and "Cannon's Procedure in the House of Representatives" is a legislative bible.

Cannon started out to be a lawyer but got into local Missouri politics to widen his field of contacts. In 1911, Champ Clark, then speaker of the House, persuaded Cannon to come to Washington as a clerk in the speaker's office.

"I wanted to see the wheels go around" for a few weeks and took the job, Cannon recalls. He never got back to Missouri to stay. In 1917 he was named parliamentarian of the House, a post he held until he was elected as a member in 1922. Only one present member, Rep. Carl Vinson, Georgia Democrat, outranks Cannon in years of service.

In private life, Cannon is a gentle, home-loving man. His devotion to his wife, the former Ida Dawson Wigginton, to whom he has been married 56 years, is cited as a model of domesticity by colleagues.

Doesn't Fool Him

The Cannons have two married daughters and five grandchildren. "She runs the place, but she doesn't fool me," Cannon says of the only granddaughter, "but I doubt if I fool her, either."

Cannon's hobbies are few. He tinkers at the piano and operates a diversified 750-acre farm on the Mississippi River. He is an avid student of history.

He is a Baptist by birth and by choice and has never moved his home from his native town of Elsberry, Mo., which was founded in 1879, the year Cannon was born.

Fewer Farm Workers

WASHINGTON (AP)—The U.S. Agriculture Department reports that the average number of persons working on farms during the first 11 months of this year totaled 6.91 million, almost 4 per cent less than in the same period of 1961.

Compared with averages for the five preceding years of 1956-60, the total number of workers this year was down 10 per cent. This included family workers down 12 per cent and hired workers down 5 per cent.

The department said the average farm wage rate on Oct. 1 was 86 cents an hour compared with 84 cents an hour on Oct. 1, 1961.

Charges Unions Distort Facts on Merger With NYC

HARRISBURG (AP) — A Pennsylvania Railroad official has charged that rail unions have "completely distorted the facts" of the PRR's proposed merger with the New York Centrail Railroad.

In addition, James W. Oram said at a news conference Wednesday, the various unions "have failed to refute any of the facts and figures presented in our testimony before the Interstate Commerce Commission."

Oram is PRR vice president for public and employe relations.

On another front Wednesday night, Martin L. Mellett, grand vice president of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers and Firemen, called for a congressional investigation of the financial condition of the nation's railroads.

Addressing the union-sponsored Central Pennsylvania Committee to Preserve Railroads, Mellett predicted such an inquiry would "give lie for once and for all to the myth of railroad poverty."

Oram said the union distorted the facts on the number of employes to be affected by the merger and the number of trains to be dropped or re-routed.

He claimed that the two railroads together have had to eliminate an average of 11,000 jobs a year in the last decade because of reduced business.

If the merger is approved by the Interstate Commerce Commission, Oram said, only 7,300 jobs would be eliminated in the next five years throughout the two systems.

TO SERVE UAHC CONGREGATIONS—The Religious Action Center of the Union of American Hebrew Congregations will serve members of the UAHC congregations. It is a gift from Mr. and Mrs. Kivie Kaplan of Boston and was dedicated November 29 through December 2. In the center's Ark is a Torah on loan from President John F. Kennedy. The scroll originally belonged to Rabbi Isaac Mayer Wise, founder of Reform Judaism. Rabbi Herbert J. Bloom of Temple Emanuel attended the dedication. He is a member of the National Social Action Commission of the UAHC.

No Duelists Wanted

Frankfort, Ky. (AP) — Public officials and legislators in Kentucky must swear that they have never fought a duel—or have been a second at a duel. This is required in Kentucky's constitution, which was adopted in 1891.

Religious Action Center Dedicated in Washington

Rabbi Herbert I. Bloom of Temple Emanuel, as a member of the National Social Action Commission of the Union of American Hebrew Congregations, actively participated in the recent dedication of the Religious Action Center of the UAHC in Washington, D. C.

The new Religious Action Center is located at 2027 Massachusetts Avenue, NW, and is a gift from Mr. and Mrs. Kivie Kaplan of Boston. It will serve the member UAHC congregations with educational materials on problems best researched in the nation's capital as well as function in other capacities.

The center was officially dedicated from November 29 through December 2. Approximately 1,500 lay and rabbinic leaders attended the dedication.

Rabbi Bloom said of the center:

"I believe that the dedication of this center marks the beginning of a new era in the vitalizing of religious life in America."

According to Rabbi Bloom, President John F. Kennedy said of the new Religious Action Center:

"It is an effective answer to those who deny the responsibilities of religion for sectarian injustice. It emphasizes ethical and moral principles which should be part of the foundation of any religion."

On Saturday, Dec. 1, a creative religious service was held at the center. At that time, an historic Torah belonging to President Kennedy was placed in the newly created Ark.

The Torah was presented to the President last November at ceremonies in the Rose Garden of the White House. The scroll originally belonged to Rabbi Isaac Mayer Wise, founder of Reformed Judaism. It was housed in the Ark at I. M. Wise Temple, Cincinnati, O., until its presentation last year.

The Torah will be housed in the Religious Action Center until all the executive mementoes of President Kennedy are placed in a Presidential Museum.

Rabbi Richard G. Hirsch is the director of the center.

The work of the Commission on Social Action of Reform Judaism is directed from the UAHC House of Living Judaism, 838 Fifth Avenue, New York City. Albert Vorspan is director of the commission and Rabbi Balfour Brickner is associate director.

In addition to the dedication, the following UAHC affiliates and commissions held sessions during the four-day period:

UAHC Board of Trustees, National Federation of Temple Sisterhoods, Commission on Synagogue Activities, Commission on Social Action, and the Mid-Atlantic Council of UAHC.

All sessions were held at the Sheraton-Park Hotel, with the exception of the religious services and special ceremonies at the center.

Getting Summary Ready in Syracuse Police Scandals

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP) — The State Investigation Commission prepared for the people of Syracuse today a summary of the sensational accounts of police corruption that were presented during five days of a public hearing.

The hearing led to the resignations of the two top Syracuse police officers and to a widespread shakeup of the police department, including creation of a special force to keep an eye on the policemen.

After presenting its summation, the commission planned to adjourn.

During the five days of testimony, the commission heard a parade of investigators, policemen, city officials, and underworld characters tell of payoffs to policemen, tip-offs to gamblers on imminent police raids, official pressure to quash arrests, unmolested prostitution, demotion of policemen who insisted on enforcing laws, and detectives acting as agents for gamblers.

Wednesday, Percy Harris, described as the onetime king of Upstate gambling, told how he had congratulated the former first deputy police chief on a promotion that was not made until three months later.

The official, Francis Ryan, resigned from the force earlier in the week. From the witnesss stand yesterday he said he had known Harris since 1937.

Harris commented on his clairvoyance about police promotions after hearing a reading of what the commission said was a transcript of a telephone conversation between Ryan and Harris in February, 1960. The transcript was one of several the commission said it made of wiretaps of phone conversations between Harris and Syracuse policemen.

Harris was quoted as telling Ryan he wanted to meet him at midnight to congratulate him on his promotion to acting captain of detectives.

When Ryan balked, Harris then said, "I'll get a hold of my friend K," according to the transcript.

Harris testified that he had used the initial "G," rather than "K," and that the G stood for the late Francis Garn, a detective sergeant.

Ryan resigned from the force along with Police Chief Harold F. Kelly.

In another development Wednesday, John Shostack, veteran patrolman, submitted his resignation from the force. Shostack testified last week that he had visited Harris at his "place of business" in New York City in 1950.

Guglielmino in Korea

Pfc. James R. Guglielmino Jr., whose parents live on Route 2, Highland, recently attended a five-day religious retreat at the Eighth U. S. Army Religious Retreat Center near Seoul, Korea.

The purpose of the retreat is to provide the soldier with the opportunity to meditate and discuss religious matters with a chaplain of his faith.

Guglielmino, a rifleman in Company A of the 1st Division's 12th Cavalry in Korea, entered the Army in October 1961 and completed basic combat training at Fort Dix, N. J.

The 18-year-old soldier attended Marlboro High School.

SOCIAL AGENCIES HAVE DECEMBER MEETING—A panel of speakers discussed the project "Operation Able" at a meeting of the Ulster County Social Agencies on Tuesday, Dec. 11 at the YWCA. Among the principals attending were (-r) Donald C. Shambo, project coordinator and director of the Children's Home; Mrs. Thomas Reynolds Jr., president; and Donald Germaine, KHS guidance counselor. Joining Mr. Shambo and Mr. Germaine in the panel discussion were James E. Tobin, KHS director of pupil personnel; and Edward Green, principal of Rondout Valley School. The objective of "Operation Able" is to decrease the number of potential student drop-outs from class and to impress these students with the importance of a high school diploma. Mrs. Reynolds also announced that Mrs. Eleanor Booth, YWCA executive director, has been elected to the executive board of the council and will fill the unexpired term of George Johnson. The council will make up Christmas baskets again this year in cooperation with Charles Ryan of the Kingston Recreation Department. On January 8 at the YWCA, the council will hear Ward Tongue, director of Urban Renewal, speak on "Community Service for Urban Renewal." (Freeman photo)

JFK Eyes Tighter Squeeze on Fidel

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy has decided to impose penalties on non-Communist shipping engaged in trade with Cuba, chiefly by denying American cargoes to the vessels.

New regulations are expected to be put into effect in about two weeks.

The President's move, disclosed Wednesday at a news conference, involves reviving plans that were shelved when the Cuban crisis broke in October.

Pre-Crisis Policy

Thus, the United States is reverting to its pre-crisis policy of putting an increasingly tight economic squeeze on the Castro regime in Cuba and, at the same time, making the cost of Soviet support for that regime as high as possible.

Kennedy also made two other major points about the Cuban situation:

1. He hopes that negotiations going on between U.S. and Soviet representatives in New York "will come to some conclusion in the not too distant future." Meanwhile the United States intends to maintain its vigilance against he reinroduction of Soviet offensive weapons into the island. This was the substance of the President's reaction to Soviet Premier Khrushchev's speech in Moscow Wednesday claiming Soviet policy had been victorious in Cuba.

2. It is the "best judgment" of the U.S. government that Soviet nuclear missiles and jet bombers "have been removed from Cuba" but "these things are never 100 pr cent" certain. The United States is still insisting on direct verification of the removal of the weapons and on safeguards against their re-introduction.

No Comment on Nik

Khrushchev suggested in his Moscow speech that the conditions exist for clearing up the differences between the United States and the Soviet Union on Cuba. He emphasized that he expects the President to live up to his offer of a no-invasion pledge.

The President said he had not analyzed and did not wish to comment specifically on Khrushchev's statements.

Dies Shoveling Snow

The Rev. John Johnson and his youth choir of Albany will present a program of songs at the Church of God in Christ, 9 Mill Street, tonight 8 o'clock.

Students Discuss Castro Invitation For Yule Vacation

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP)—An invitation from Fidel Castro to American college students to spend an expense-free, Christmas holiday vacation in communist Cuba is under study by a group of undergraduates at the University of Buffalo.

At a meeting on campus Wednesday, Cameron A. Ross Jr., 23, a former, student, said he was seeking legal advice concerning a ban on travel to the Red stronghold.

Ross said the invitation from Castro had been relayed through a group of students in New York City.

About 30 students attended the meeting, but shortly after it was opened by Ross, 10 left.

Anatol Schlosser, the leader of the New York City group, has claimed that about 80 students from the east, west, midwest and parts of Canada are expected to make the trip.

Joseph A. Diodata, 21, an ex-student at the University of Buffalo, however, said more than 60 were expected from UB alone.

Ross and Diodata were students last year at the university, but did not register for classes in September. Ross said that he had volunteered to make enquiries about the trip, but was not acting as a chairman of the group.

He said the purpose of the tour was to talk with Cuban students, exchange ideas and to get to see the island country.

Ross said the Buffalo group was awaiting answers to several important questions concerning the trip including those relating to its financing.

Radio Deal Approved

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Federal Communications Commission announced Wednesday it had approved the application of WCGR, Canandaigua, N.Y., for assignment of its license to Westley G. Kimble, owner with his wife of 40 per cent interest, for $12,000 for the remaining 60 per cent.

History of Local Christmas Seals Campaign Given

The first Christmas Seal sale in Ulster County was held in 1908. The campaign was initiated by Mrs. Clara Norton Reed and led to the formation of the Ulster County Chapter of the American Red Cross Nov. 30 of that year. Employment of the first TB nurse to serve in Kingston was made possible by gifts in that first campaign.

An exhibit of historical interest regarding the TB and Health Association and the Tuberculosis Hospital which has been on display at the Kingston Savings Bank, Wall Street, included a complete collection of Chritmas Seals used in United States as well as a complete collection of Danish Christmas Seals. The original minutes books of the Red Cross Chapter and the TB Association which also have been on display have been of great interest, as have been the photos of early leaders and pictures of the first TB Camp and of Camp Happy Land.

Miss Hazel M. Steed, TB Association's present executive director, in commenting on the display noted that, "The history of the voluntary TB and Health Association and of the Tuberculosis Hospital are closely related."

The Ulster County "TB Camp" opened in August 1909. It was made possible by funds raised in a tag day and a door-to-door canvass in Kingston under a committee headed by Dr. Mark O'Mara. Land given by Major and Mrs. James Everett was located on the hill between East Chester Street and Flatbush Avenue (across from the present Infirmary).

Committee Organized

This development followed quickly the organization of the committee for the Prevention of Tuberculosis when citizens took action to form a committee following an exposition on TB held at the Kingston Armory. Leaders of this committee in May 1909 were the Honorable Judge Joseph M. Fowler and Dr. Mary Gage Day. The Ulster County Medical Society immediately added its support and members contributed funds to get a hospital building fund started. The community people added their support and by April 1910 a hospital building was opened. The board of supervisors' vital interest in the project was evidenced by their appropriation of funds to meet operating costs. The hospital served to care for the tuberculous until the present hospital was built by the county. It was opened in 1931.

Photos on Display

Other photos and items displayed included photos of opening ceremonies of many Christmas Seals campaigns. One of particular interest included a replica of the map used by the lamp-lighters in Kingston. In discussing the content of the exhibit with the bank leaders, Dr. Frederic W. Holcomb Sr. observed that, "the TB Association now in its 54th year of service to Ulster County, has always had the whole-hearted support of the people of the county and through the contributions of many thousands of folks for Christmas Seals, they have helped make this an outstanding association in this state and the country. We have not only served in the fight to bring TB under control but in years past spearheaded programs in Nutrition, Venereal Disease Control, Mental Health and Heart Diseases."

"Today we pledge our continuing cooperation," the doctor said, "with the official agencies and the medical society in the efforts to eradicate TB and bring other respiratory diseases under control."

The Ulster County TB and Health Association is an affiliate of the State Committee on Tuberculosis and Public Health and the National Tuberculosis Association. Their education, research and community service activities are financed by Christmas Seals Contributions.

Two Erie Students To Try for Oxford

NEW YORK (AP) — Two students from Erie County have been chosen to represent New York Saturday in competition for two-year Rhodes Scholarships at Oxford University in England.

They are Michael B. Cook, 20, of Clarence, a senior at Swarthmore College, and 2nd Lt. Richard F. Klass, 22, of Orchard Park, a graduate of the Air Force Academy.

Cook and Klass will compete in Baltimore with 10 candidates from five-Atlantic states for four available Rhodes Scholarships. Dr. Milton Eisenhower, president of Johns Hopkins University, heads the district selection committee.

Originally, 43 persons who live or attend school in New York applied for the scholarships. Seventeen were chosen for interviews by the selection committee for the state and Cook and Klass were chosen from among them.

Hollywood News and Views

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Ideas shoot from Katharine Hepburn like sparks from a grinding wheel. So when she is talking it's best merely to sit back and listen.

That Hepburn wanted to talk was not unusual. That she would talk for publication was extraordinary, since she has been elusive for reporters in recent years.

The reason for talking was to help along "Long Day's Journey into Night," the much-heralded film from Eugene O'Neill's autobiographical play.

Was Real Challenge

"I think it deserves a hearing," she said resolutely. "It's a fine piece of work, a truly great play. I think it's encouraging that such a serious film can be done at a reasonable figure and that its commercial prospects are good.

"I was delighted to do it. It was a real challenge, making use a range of dramatics that I have never shown on the screen before. O'Neill had a depth that is simply marvelous."

The actress lives in a curious aerie amid the high rent district in upper Beverly Hills. It is a cliff-hanging apartment adjacent to an estate. She explained:

"It used to be Jack Barrymore's. Dear Jack, he was so kind to me. I did my first picture with him—'Bill of Divorcement.' The lower part of this place used to be his projection room." She showed me a stained-glass door leading to what is now her bedroom. Pictured in it were Barrymore and his second wife, Dolores Costello.

Hepburn settled in one of the chairs she had made herself in the upstairs sitting room, a marvelously lighted room with large windows and skylights. And she talked. Here in abbreviated form are some of the things she said:

All Added to Aura

"I must say that we had a great era in films. There were real stars in those days, and real characters. We were expected to be a bit wayward, and that added to the aura.

"There were great stars in the group before me, too. I think they and we had something that the actors lack today: vitality. Everything seemed tremendously important to us, and we worked like dogs at our jobs.

"I don't believe in all this confessing in public. It seems to me that the public appreciates a certain mystery. The producers did that in the old days. Take Maude Adams, for example. The public was never allowed to know what she was really like.

"I don't like the way women are portrayed by the new dramatists. I can't believe they are the pinched, lecherous, scheming females they seem to be in those plays.

"Maybe it's because my mother was an ardent feminist. Anyway, I've always had a great admiration for women. They've brought a lot of softness and beauty into the world. For hundreds of years they have made unattractive men think that they are appealing, and that's an act of kindness. . . ."

Weekly Food Review

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

That sharp nip in the air means quickened Christmas shopping, heartier season cheer and, alas, higher produce prices.

Housewives may not see too many signs of change at supermarkets this weekend, but there are several indications of seasonal jumps.

An unusual cold snap in Florida this week damaged thousands of acres of peppers, celery, eggplant, tomatoes, beans and sweet corn. This may well be translated later into higher prices in stores over the nation.

The heavy budget items of meats and poultry, however, have not risen and many good bargains are available.

Pork is especially attractive in many stores. Loin roasts, chops, smoked picnics, smoked butts and bacon are special attractions.

Beef bargains include chuck roasts, sirloin and round steaks, ground beef, stew beef, and short ribs.

Turkeys are flowing into the market from cold storage and many markets reported lower prices. Broiler-fryers continue a good buy.

At vegetable counters currently, best buys are in cabbage, carrots, sweet potatoes, squash, potatoes, onions and lettuce. Regional attractions include broccoli, kale, mushrooms, spinach, collards, radishes, eggplant and rutabagas.

Fruit features include apples, avocados, grapefruit, oranges, bananas, tangerines and tangelos.

Proud Californians may not wish to acknowledge the existence millions of years ago of another type of mighty redwood tree. But there was one. The dawn redwood, the most abundant fossil conifer of the Northern Hemisphere appeared during the age of the dinosaurs and became extinct in North America and Europe during the Miocene epoch some 15 million years ago. It lingered on into the Pliocine epoch in Japan, and in the 1940s was found living in remote valleys of China.

Take Initiative, Rusk Bids NATO

PARIS (AP)—U.S. Secretary of State Dean Rusk urged the North Atlantic Treaty Organization today to take the initiative in the cold war and demonstrate that freedom is the wave of the future.

In a cautiously opimistic report to the annual NATO winter ministerial meeting, Rusk said the outcome of the Cuban crisis and weaknesses developing in the Communist bloc offered the West new opportunities.

Sees Worries Shifting

The world may be arriving, he explained, at a time when the East instead of the West will do a greater part of the worrying.

Rusk also assured America's NATO allies the United States government is not negotiating with the Soviet Union on any other subject than Cuba.

He proposed wide-ranging Western studies of major diplomatic problems to consolidate advantages now flowing toward the Atlantic community.

And he warned the Soviet Union the United States has given all the concessions it intends to offer in the negotiations for a treaty to ban nuclear tests.

Rusk spoke for nearly an hour at the opening session of a three-day ministerial review of NATO problems in the Paris headquarters of the 15-nation alliance.

He said the Soviet Union is bumping into serious problems, including troubles inside the country itself, within the Communist bloc, and in relations with the rest of the world.

More Trouble for K

He described Premier Khrushchev's differences with Peking as serious and predicted more trouble probably is coming. At home, he added, Khrushchev's government is beset with serious economic problems both in manufacturing and agriculture.

He told the delegates that when such topics as Berlin came up during the Cuban negotiations, U.S. representatives replied with positions previously taken by the Kennedy administration.

Because of the number of exchanges between President Kennedy and Khrushchv and the secrecy still surrounding them, European members of NATO had felt some concern that the Americans might be extending the discussion into other fields.

Rusk suggested that the intensive Allied work that had gone into the preparation of the Western position on Berlin might be extended to cover other cold war problems. He suggested that the permanent representatives of the NATO council discuss it and report to the ministers at their spring meeting.

Must Adjust Swiftly

He said fragmentary arms control steps also are worth pursuing. He mentioned particularly efforts to prevent the spread of nuclear weapons and arrangements to guarantee outer space is used for peaceful purposes.

Employers Face Penalties for Non-Compliance

NEW YORK, N. Y.—"Effective January 1, 1963, the Workmen's Compensation Board will administratively impose $25 assessments against employers who have failed to carry the necessary compensation coverage for a period of not less than 10 consecutive days," Colonel S. E. Senior, chairman of the Workmen's Compensation Board, announced today.

The Chairman added that this new assessment is pusurant to Section 52, Subd. 5 of the Workmen's Compensation Law.

The chairman further indicated that since January 1, 1962, all employers, with very few exceptions, are required to insure their employes for both workmen's compensation and disability benefits, regardless of the number of employes they may have. Failure to insure the required payment of benefits for his employes subjects the noncomplying employer to both monetary assessments and criminal penalties.

If there are any questions that employers may have with respect to the coverage requirements of both the Workmen's Compensation Law and the Disability Benefits Law, and the assessments to which non-complying employers will be exposed, further information may be secured from the Workmen's Compensation Board offices in New York City, Albany, Binghamton, Buffalo, Rochester and Syracuse.

New Paltz Area Methodist Notes

Advent Services

The third Sunday in Advent will be observed this week with services in the churches of New Paltz Methodist Parish at 8:30 a. m. and 11 a. m. at New Paltz; 9:30 a. m., Lloyd Church, and 2 p. m., Plutarch Church. Myron Ronk, assistant minister, will preach at the early morning New Paltz service, and the pastor, the Rev. Willett Porter will deliver the sermon at each of the other services. The senior choir, under the direction of Ralph E. Dennis, will sing at 11 a. m.

A nursery is available for the care of young children during the 11 o'clock service and school-age children attend the first part of the service, then adjourn to the primary room for a story hour.

New Choir Director

Announcement was made Monday night of the appointment of Keneth Baumgartner as director of the senior choir of New Paltz Methodist Church. Mr. Baumgartner will begin his duties Jan. 1. He will be replacing Ralph Dennis, whose service to the choir and church as director and trustee has been so outstanding and greatly appreciated. A church-wide gathering to honor the Dennis' will be held immediately following the Christmas musicale Sunday, Dec. 23.

ITU Talks Still

the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service said after the talks were recessed that he would return to Washington and would remain there subject to call.

Federal mediators said the printers and the Publishers Association of New York were simply too far apart for productive sessions.

Both publishers' Chairman Amory H. Bradford and the local union president, Bertram A. Powers, seemed to agree.

$12.45 Apart

Bradford said an offer of an $8-a-week increase plus various fringe benefits made by the publishers would cost $14 million over the two-year term of a new contract if, as expected, the settlement reached with the printers is applied to six other craft unions—the deliverers, paper handlers, stereotypers, pressmen, photoengravers and mailers.

The union has been seeking an $18.45 weekly increase to bring the base rate of printers to $159.45, plus various fringe benefits.

Central Hudson

announced approval of the plan today. The company reduced residential rates a total of $220,800 in 1960.

The company serves 134,000 customers in a mid-Hudson Valley area that includes Beacon, Kingston, Newburgh and Poughkeepsie.

Single-phase residential users of more than 130 kilowatts monthly will receive monthly reductions ranging from 15 cents to $1.50, depending upon consumption. The company estimates that this will affect 82,250 customers. The rates of 38,200 customers using less than 130 kilowatt hours will not be changed.

Customers receiving three-phase service will receive decreases ranging from 28 cents a month for electricity to heat water to $1.08. The company estimates that this will affect 222 of its 227 customers served under this classification.

JFK Would Leave

and Kennedy made public a letter expressing his confidence in the U.N. ambassador.

Because Bartlett is an old and close friend of the President, rumors immediately shot through the capital that someone in the administration was "out to get Adlai." Fears were expressed that an attempt was being made to undermine him at the United Nations.

Not Time Enough

On other matters, Kennedy said he hadn't had time to digest Soviet Premier Khrushchev's speech earlier in the day in which he declared he would hold the United States to its promise of a guarantee against invading Cuba.

Kennedy said he hoped Cuban settlement negotiations at the United Nations would reach "some conclusion" but asserted the United States would use its own methods to insure against another Soviet buildup in Cuba. These methods, he said, "are very effective."

As of now, Kennedy declared, "it is our best judgment" that the Soviets have withdrawn their missiles and bombers from Cuba.

To Announce Penalties

The United States, he added, will announce within two weeks new regulations to penalize non-Communist shipping involved in the Cuba trade.

The President reiterated, without specifications, his proposal to cut income taxes next year. He contended he and Rep. Wilbur Mills, D-Ark., chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee, are not as far apart as a cursory reading of a recent interview with Mills might indicate.

Mills, who conferred privately with Kennedy after the news conference, said in the interview that he opposed a "quickie" tax cut or reduction that would balloon the government's debt.

Kennedy said he would detail his tax program at a speech before the Economic Club of New York Friday night.

Kennedy touched on these other topics in the nationally televised and broadcast conference:

BRITAIN—No final decision on abandoning the Skybolt missile, on which Britain had based nuclear defense plans, will be made before the problem is hashed out with Prime Minister Harold Macmillan at Nassau next week.

SPOOFS — Kennedy chuckled when asked what he thought of "The First Family" record in which Kennedy's voice is mimicked. His audience roared when he said, "I thought it sounded more like Teddy than it did me—so he's annoyed." Teddy is his youngest brother, Sen. Edward M. Kennedy.

COMMUNICATIONS — Relatively "instantaneous communication" with the Kremlin is desirable to eliminate delays such as occurred in exchanging messages with Khrushchev during the Cuban emergency.

NUCLEAR ROCKET—Not until tests are completed next July will the government decide whether to put more money into the Rover project to develop a nuclear-lowered vehicle for deep space exploration.

VIET NAM—After pouring men and equipment into Viet Nam to counter communist aggression, Kennedy said, "We don't see the end of the tunnel, but I must say I don't think it is darker than it was a year ago, and in some ways lighter."

Area Has Second

gan Tuesday night. Some schools in the area were closed, but main roads were open.

Roads Opened

Roads also were reoprted open in the Fulton area, north of Syracuse, after a Lake Ontario squall that dumped more than two feet of snow Tuesday night.

The Weather Bureau predicted further squalls Friday east and southeast of Lake Ontario but a let-up east of Lake Erie. Tonight was expected to be a bit warmer in the eastern half of the state, but little change was forecast for the western half. Scattered flurries were on tap.

Early-morning temperatures today included:

Boonville -15; Salisburg and Owls Head -14; Massena -10; Watertown -9; Rome -6; Malone -4; Binghamton and Syracuse 0; Glens Falls 2 above; Plattsburgh and Utica 3; Poughkeepsie and Olean 4; Oneonta 5; Albany 7; Buffalo and Newburgh 10; New York City 13.

An unofficial reading of 18 below was reported at Duane, near Malone in northern New York.

Niagara Mohawk Proposes Boost By New System

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—The Niagara Mohawk Power Corp. proposed today a new billing system that would increase charges to its gas and electricity customers across the state by a total of about $1,153,000 a year.

The cost would be divided about equally between residential and commercial customers, a company spokesman said. Niagara Mohawk has about 1,470,000 customers, all in Upstate New York.

The company said the average increase would be less than five cents a month for residential electricity customers and for those who heat their homes with gas. The increase for those who cook with gas would be a cent or less a month.

Niagara Mohawk filed its proposal with the Public Service Commission. It would go into effect next Feb. 27. A PSC spokesman said the plan was being studied.

Basically, the company proposes to switch from a 360-day to a 365-day yearly billing system.

Levesque and three other Canadians pleaded guilty last month to a charge of possessing 95 counterfeit $100 travelers checks, bringing them into the United States from Canada earlier this year, and forging some of them for purchases here.

The other three were given two-year sentences by Henderson earlier this week.

Today's Business Mirror

By SAM DAWSON

AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—President Kennedy appears set today to turn to business leaders for aid. And the help he wants from these largely conservative men is in dealing with conservative leaders of Congress who are getting their backs up over any tax cutting while the Treasury is running a deficit.

Audience to Be Critical

Business and the President have had their well-publicized differences this year. So he will have some underlying suspicions to allay when he talks here Friday night to the Economic Club of New York.

Many of the most important industrial and financial leaders of the nation will be in the audience. And many are critical of what they regard as the administration's less-than-ardent love for Big Business.

But on the question of tax cutting—if he talks about it as most of his prospective audience now think he will—President Kennedy can count on considerable support. At the same time there will be a lot of sympathy for the position of the conservatives in the new Congress who think that government spending should be cut right along with taxes, if not first.

The President's task then will be to persuade conservative businessmen to urge conservative congressional leaders to vote for the tax cuts he has promised to submit early in the coming session.

It will be a neat trick. Businessmen in general feel that taxes are too high and are holding back the economic growth desired to create jobs for everyone who really wants to work. They also feel that a balanced federal budget over the long pull is needed to keep the dollar healthy.

Cuts Fine, Tough

At the same time, many of them are well aware of how their own companies prosper when they get government orders. And some know to their sorrow how plants can be closed and men laid off when a government contract is lost or canceled.

So cuts in government spending are fine in principal when the aim is to balance the budget without piling the tax burden even higher. But the cuts can be pretty tough to take when a particular producer or worker is involved.

Few in the Friday night audience are likely to be very hopeful of any significant cut in total government spending, much as they will applaud any promise of efforts to economize.

And most are likely to favor any lightening of the tax burden on business and individuals—up to a point. That point is the highly debatable one of just how high a Treasury deficit can go before it becomes dangerous.

The first step in planning a cross ruff is to establish the pattern. Next cash the winners in side suits. Then you are ready for the actual ruffing. Here you plan to use low trumps until you can afford to start ruffing high. From then on you ruff high so that no unkind opponent can overruff and spoil your fun.

South ruffed the opening club lead and took stock. The repeated doubles indicated that finesses were not going to work for him, but he noted that if he csould make eight trump tricks everything would be perfect.

Still he would have to play hearts sometime so South led a diamond to dummy's ace, returned a heart and finessed the queen. East won with the king and led a second club.

Now South was ready for the cross ruff. He ruffed a diamond in dummy, returned to his hand with a heart, ruffed another diamond in dummy, ruffed a third club in his hand, ruffed a heart in dummy, led another club and ruffed with the ace after East followed. South could not afford to let West overruff and lead trump.

This gave South nine tricks. He led his last diamond and ruffed with dummy's last trump for his tenth.

Audience Is Main Difference In Acting Techniques: Broun

The main difference between acting for television, movies and the stage is the importance of the audience, Heywood Hale Broun, Jr., actor on stage and screen, said in a lecture before the Onteora English classes.

A television show or movie is made without concern for the audience, whereas a play must go through a long process of criticism by audiences before it is "polished", Broun said.

After four weeks of rehearsal, the play is put before a "tryout" audience, made up mostly of people connected with theatre, for criticism. It then moves to Philadelphia or Boston for further audience criticism, and further changes in the play.

For instance, if the audience becomes restless or starts coughing too much, it is the sign of weakness in the play, Broun noted. Altogether, it takes seven weeks to polish the play, although the actors may feel that this is not enough and could change their ideas of the play for much longer, never becoming bored with it, as it would constantly present a challenge to perfect it.

Transmits Feelings

The audience will also participate by transmitting their emotions to the actors. An actor will not do well if the audience is unresponsive, but he can be very stimulated by a lively audience and can transmit the excitement back to the audience.

A television show, on the other hand, will rehearse seven days, two of which are merely for the technicalities of the production. The criticisms are made by the sponsors and directors, mostly in the nature of fear of offending someone in the TV audience. On stage, there are props and an actor is surrounded on three sides by the atmosphere of the play, but on a television set, the actor must always hear the noises of cameras and cameramen, must always remember the specified movements necessary for the production, and at the same time must recall his lines and his mood. He described TV acting as "acting in an iron lung."

Problems in Movies

Movies also need great and lasting enthusiasm on the part of the actor, as evidenced by Broun's experience of shooting a scene 14 times in 106 degree temperature in "Bells Are Ringing" with Judy Holiday, all the time remembering every technicality and remaining full of life and ability till the last shooting

Commercials, said Broun, have all the problems of movies greatly exaggerated. When he shot a 60-second commercial, it took 14 hours, and he was on his feet the entire time.

Broun had been a successful newspaper writer, but found that he was unhappy in that element and could only live happily if he were an actor. This despite the fact that his father Heywood Broun was one of the greatest newspaper men in American journalism.

His advice to the audience was to try at all cost to avoid the acting career, but he added: "if you have to, you will."

Re-Elect Wagner Fire Company Head at Zena

Gottlob Wagner was re-elected president of Woodstock Fire Company No. 4 (Zena) at the annual December election meeting.

Other elected officers are: Neil MacLeod, vice president; Fred Thaisz, Jr., secretary; Albert Holumzer, treasurer; Fred Thaisz Sr., chaplain.

Named to the executive committee were: Robert Klein, three years; John Cutler, two years; Arthur Hung, one year. The line officers are captain, Charles Wolven; 1st lieutenant, William Hung; 2nd lieutenant, Stewart DeWitt. Chairman of refreshments with the title of "King of the Kitchen' will again be John Ohman.

Holister Sutton was chairman of the election committee, with William Calyer, secretary; John Ohman and Fred Thaisz, Sr., election inspectors.

Christmas Plans

The company has completed plans for its annual Christmas party for the Zena children on Saturday, Dec. 22 at 2 p. m. in the firehouse, company president Gottlob Wagner has announced.

Refreshments will be served and some real surprises are in store for the kiddies this year, Wagner said. A bill of entertainment is planned and all youngsters in the Zena are asked to make a special effort to attend.

Donald Vanderlyn of Woodstock Park was elected a member of the fire company at the December meeting. The company expressed the hope that more young men in the area would join.

Artists Sale Is Set December 15

The annual Christmas sale of the Woodstock Artists Association is a fabulous occasion for the art connoisseur. This happy tradition will be continued this year with an opening party, the most popular exhibition opening of the year, Saturday, Dec. 15, from 4 to 6 p. m. at the Association gallery. Refreshments, donated by some of the finest gourmets in town, are free.

Art works in a wide variety of styles will be on display on the walls of the gallery. Among the many medias represented will be prints, drawings, sculpture, wire construction, ceramics and others.

As in the past, artist members will contribute works greater in value at reduced prices. Among the well known artists who have contributed in the past are Ainslie Burke, Robert Angeloch, Walter Plate, Lynfield Ott, Rosella Hartman, Frances Stein, Gladys Brodsky, James Turnbull, Bob Jacobson, Richard Munsell, Fletcher Martin, Anton Refrigier, Ethel Magafan, Bruce Currie, Sidney Laufman, Andre Reullan, Jack Taylor, Dick Crist, Howard Mandel, Harvey Fite and Edward Chavez.

The public is invited on Dec. 15 to inspect the many fine originals on display. The exhibit will be open from Dec. 15 through Dec. 30. The Christmas show will be on view from 1:30 to 5:30 p. m. and on Tuesday, Thursday, Saturday and Sunday from 2 to 5 p. m. As a special accommodation to shoppers and viewers whose daylight time is filled, the gallery will remain open from 7 to 9 on Friday and Saturday nights.

YOUTHFUL EDITORS—The editorial staff of The Bennett Banner, a new elementary school newspaper at Onteora, gets down to hard work. ## Forgiveness Week at Library

If you are one among many book borrowers at the Woodstock Library who from time to time forgets to renew or puts off returning a book on time, it will pay you to check your book shelves for an overdue book, because the library is declaring the week of Dec. 18 through Dec. 22 —Forgiveness Week. All fines, great and small on overdue books, will be cheerfully forgiven with no questions asked . . . the week before Christmas.

The Yuletide truce which may come as a surprise to some newer library patrons is, if not quite an institution, at least a known and well-received means for bringing back books which have strayed and stayed out of circulation through carelessness or absent-mindedness.

At least for one week anyone can square things with himself and the library and prepare himself for a hike in the high cost of carelessness. After January 1, 1963, the daily fine on an overdue book will be 5 cents—one nickel—not two cents.

It is unlikely that one more aspect of the irresistible push on the cost-of-living index can pass without some word of explanation. Elsewhere in the immediate area and throughout the nation, libraries have been charging overdue books at five cents a day. The Woodstock Library has discussed the matter delayed taking action for the past three years, because until the present, the overdue book situation while unpleasant and basically unnecessary seemed manageable. However, rising circulation has brought an uneconomic increase in books held needlessly beyond the due date. Not only are valuable books lost to the library and the reading public at large, but the library staff must devote increasing quantities of time trying to bring back errant books. After all, librarians are librarians, not sleuths, Mrs. Janette Steinlauf points out. Henceforth, 'the shorter the memory the longer the fine' shall be axiomatic when speaking of overdue books.

New Elementary Paper at Onteora

The Bennett Banner, a new elementary school newspaper, was published by students at the Reginald R. Bennett School in Boiceville during the month of November. The newspaper will be published each month during the school year.

First issue of the Banner was dedicated to Reginald R. Bennett, who recently retired as superintendent of the Onteora Central Schools District and for whom the Bennett school was named.

Daniel Estes, news chief for the paper, interviewed Bennett at his home and the dedicatory article was based on this interview. Other features in the November issue include: class news double sessions, poetry and story sections, a crossword puzzle and sports news.

Mrs. Emma Argulewicz and her fifth grade class have taken major responsibility for compiling and editing the paper. Elizabeth Carlson is editor-in-chief, with John Bouymaster serving as assistant editor.

First Yule Show Was 26 Years Ago

The annual Christmas Eve on the green program reminds Woodstock residents that the first program was held about 26 years ago.

The history of the program, except for the past 11 years, has been sporadic. During the first three years, the Christmas Eve celebration was held in conjunction with winter sports activities in the community.

The history book also relates that Ned Thatcher was the first Santa Claus, who arrived either by sled or buggy depending on the weather. Even now, the mode of Santa's transportation is any one's guess from year to year.

The Dutch Reformed Church took over the program for three years. Later it was handled by the Woodstock Fire Department. The program was then discontinued for several years before it was revived practically singlehanded by Fennel (Pop) Franckling. In 1948, the American Legion staged the show. In 1949, Leon Carey and Joe Holdridge, with the help of John Pike, started what has now become tradition with the format that has been the basis for the past 11 years' show.

Five years the program had grown to such proportions that it became a community project.

BIG GREETING—A 110-ton locomotive became an enormous greeting card after it was signed by more than 1,200 employes who helped build it at Schenectady, N.Y. Bound for Pakistan, the locomotive was signed with big felt pens in a gesture of friendship to Pakistani railroad workers.

Two Hurt in Crash

Two motorists were injured at 6:50 p. m. Wednesday when their cars were involved in a collision on Route 9W at the intersection of Grand Street, Highland. Trooper James Spencer reported the vehicles were operated by Joseph T. Salerno, 28, Highland and Joseph R. Perry, 36, of Pancake Hollow Road, Highland. Spencer said Salerno was driving south and Perry was pulling out of Grand Street into the southbound lane of Route 9W when the collision occurred. According to troopers, both drivers were taken to St. Francis' Hospital, Poughkeepsie. Their injuries were not immediately determined.

Parents of Girls Protest School Showers in Group

Protests have been lodged by parents of four teenage girls attending physical education classes at Beacon High School, against a compulsory administrative ruling requiring students to take group showers after gymnasium classes.

School officials defended the shower plan instituted at the school recently.

Mrs. Fredericka Decker, a Glenham teacher and mother of three girls attending Beacon High School, called the group shower facilities and the administrative rule an imposition against a girl's modesty. She objected to the rule on the basis of improper sanitation, health and morality.

Herbert N. Bryant, 24 Duncan Street, Beacon, father of another student, noted three private stalls are provided in the girls' shower room at the high school. Bryant has urged Board of Education members to provide additional private shower facilities or to place the shower program on a voluntary basis. He said he preferred that the board leave the issue of showers to the discretion of parents.

Mrs. Decker said the parents of some girl students have obtained medical excuses so their daughters could avoid using the shower facilities. She contended that modesty is one of the prerequisites to morality and that the school administration to force girl students to take a shower in the group program, is a deprivation of personal freedom.

Thomas J. Doughty, school board president, reportedly said at a recent meeting there would be no change in the ruling unless the protest becomes more widespread.

Incorrectly Identified

In a roundup of weekend mishaps in Monday's Freeman, Donald S. Becker of Blue Mountain, a mechanic with a construction company was incorrectly identified as Donald J. Beckert of The Knolls, a Town of Saugerties assessor and certified public accountant. Becker's 1956 automobile was demolished about 7 p. m. Saturday when rammed by a New York Central Railroad locomotive on Station Hill Road crossing at Barrytown. Becker's car became lodged on the tracks and when he went for assistance the train rammed into the vehicle, police reported.

Accidental Deaths

It is estimated that approximately 15,000 American children under 14 years of age die as a result of accidents every year, with 3,400 of that total being babies less than a year old.

Local Resident Has Talk With Sister in Italy

The happiest day of my life—that is what Mrs. Rocco Autorino of 146 East Chester Street called Tuesday, Dec. 11, 1962.

The reason was a telephone conversation with her sister in Italy whom she had not seen or talked with since leaving her native land almost 47 years ago. The call was a Christmas present from her daughter, Mrs. Bela Vitarius of Port Ewen.

Mrs. Autorino, who has been in ill health, talked often of her sister, Michelina Luporilli, remarking that she would probably never see or talk to her sister again. While glancing through the telephone directory last Sunday evening, Mrs. Vitarius noticed the section on overseas calls and thought what a wonderful gift it would be for her mother if a conversation could be arranged between her and her sister.

Arrangements Begin

First contacting a Kingston operator, she was directed to the New York operator and then the overseas operator. Through the overseas operator, arrangements were made to locate Mrs. Luporilli, in Lacedoria, Province of Avellino. A messenger was sent to her home and she was brought to a telephone in the village post office so the call could be made. She has no home telephone.

Arrangements for the overseas call were begun on Monday and were completed Tuesday at noon when the phone rang at the Autorino residence.

The conversation between the sisters was one of tearful reunion and rejoicing. Mrs. Luporilli repeatedly exclaimed to the assembled townspeople "My sister from America." She also asked about all the family including their brother, Anthony Ciauzzi who lives in Long Island.

Accolades for Phone Company

The excellent cooperation and service of the local, New York and overseas operators has prompted Mrs. Vitarius to send a letter of gratitude to the New York Telephone Company, thanking them for "making a dreab come true."

Mrs. Vitarius said that she was sure more people would make use of the overseas calls if only they knew how convenient and relatively inexpensive the service is.

Mrs. Autorino, the former Rose Ciauzzi, is the wife of Rocco Autorino, well known barber at the Stuyvesant Barber Shop on Fair Street for over 35 years. Now retired from the local shop, Mr. Autorino recently opened a shop in Bloomington.

The hydroelectric potential of Africa exceeds that of any other continent, even if estimates of future developments are taken reservedly. One estimate puts the potential water power at 190,000,000 h.p., that is three times the estimated potential of Europe. Another estimate credits Africa with 2/5ths of the world's potential or four times that of North America: one quarter of this is stated to be in the Congo basin alone. As yet, only 0.1 per cent is used.

Hyde Park Will Discuss Plans for New Senior High

Action on preliminary plans for a new senior high school and renovations to two existing schools to convert them into a junior high school center, will be considered at a meeting at 10 a. m. Saturday by the Hyde Park Board of Education.

Superintendent of Schools Walter Clifford said Wednesday that school officials intend to present preliminary plans to the State Education Department Tuesday.

The new senior high school will have 123,000 square feet of space. The classroom area will be a two-story structure and the auditorium, cafeteria, gymnasium and music department will be located in a one-story wing.

Present plans call for construction of a 1,000 student senior high school on a South Cross Road site, near Route 9G, and conversion of the present Haviland Junior High School and Roosevelt High School into a junior high school center.

It is estimated that between $2,500,000 and $3,000,000 will be needed for the entire project.

Chief S. O. Adebo, Nigerian ambassador to the world body, said in a speech at the luncheon "that I was secretly praying that Stevenson would become the president of the United States." At that, Stevenson stood up, shook hands with the ambassador and thanked him. "Of course," said the chief, "these things are not always done logically."

Pledges on Cuba Could Mean Lots of Shouting

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — Fidel Castro has been left like a frog on a lily pad, wondering whether it's going to rain or shine. The water around him is muddy and muddled.

President Kennedy put strings on his pledge not to invade Cuba. He seems to interpret them one way, Soviet Premier Khrushchev another. This came up again Wednesday. So, while there has been no shooting, there may be shouting.

Direct Invasion Unlikely

Direct invasion seems unlikely. It would mean another crisis with Russia. But the United States did not promise not to try to overthrow Castro by other means short of invasion. In fact, it indicated it would try.

The Kennedy-Khrushchev differences over the no-invasion pledge bubbled to the surface again in two places half a world apart when Khrushchev talked to the Soviet Parliament in Moscow and Kennedy had a news conference.

The only way to examine the differences is to look at the calendar.

In the week of the Cuban crisis, when Kennedy and Khrushchev were firing letters at each other, Kennedy wrote one on Oct. 27 interpreting a Khrushchev letter of Oct. 26 as promising to remove Soviet weapons from Cuba under "appropriate United Nations' observation and supervision" and to halt the flow of offensive weapons to Cuba.

If this was what Khrushchev promised, Kennedy said, the United States would lift its quarantine and pledge not to invade Cuba—provided Russia removed its weapons under U.N. supervision.

The next day, Oct. 28, Khrushchev wrote Kennedy that he accepted the President's word there would be no invasion of Cuba.

Doesn't Recall Guarantee

Two days later, Oct. 30, some Republican senators expressed uneasiness about the no-invasion pledge. They warned against any agreement that might provide permanent Russian sanctuary in Cuba.

That same day Edwin M. Martin, assistant secretary of state for Inter-American Affairs, as if to quiet the uneasiness, said: "I don't recall seeing anything in the exchange which suggests a guarantee of the status quo."

Khrushchev began pulling the missiles out. But in telling Khrushchev he wanted all the offensive weapons removed, Kennedy apparently forgot to mention specifically this meant Soviet bombers, too. Khrushchev began removing them later.

Left up in the air was the problem of U.N. inspection in Cuba, the key provision in Kennedy's assurance against a Cuban invasion. Castro wouldn't permit the inspectors in Cuba.

Then on Nov. 20 Kennedy held his first news conference since the Cuban crisis began. He said the United States had promised to "give assurance against an invasion" once U.N. inspection had been established.

Since there was no such inspection, it could be argued, the no-invasion pledge wouldn't stand. Then Kennedy added a statement which was a clear warning to Castro he'd be up to his neck in trouble without an invasion.

Kennedy said: "We will not, of course, abandon the political, economic and other efforts of this hemisphere to halt subversion from Cuba, nor our purpose and hope that the Cuban people shall some day be truly free."

Things quieted down a while with the no-invasion pledge surrounded by clouds.

Khrushchev on Wednesday pledged himself to fulfill Soviet commitments in the Cuban settlement "so long as the other side stands by this understanding." By this time, of course, as the calendar shows, the American and Russian understandings didn't look like twins at all.

Khrushchev added: "But if the commitments assumed are not observed by the other side we shall be compelled to take such action as may be required by the situation."

Almost Like Dove

Then he went on to explain to the Soviet people, his way, how he came to put the missiles in Cuba in the first place and then how he came to take them out.

This made the whole business, one of the Soviets' worst postwar blunders, look like one of the most honorable and peaceful events of modern times.

Some hours later at Kennedy's news conference a reporter—with the Khrushchev talk about commitments fresh in mind—asked the President where the no-invasion pledge stands now.

Kennedy said he would stand by the statement he made in his last news conference. This should provide a lot of Kennedy-Khrushchev letter-writing.

Deaths

NEW YORK (AP)—George E. Sokolsky, 69, veteran Hearstublications columnist, died Wednesday of a heart attack. Sokolsky was a spokesman for conservatism in the United States for a generation, both as a New York Herald Tribune columnist in the 1930s and since 1944 as a Hearst writer. His column was carried in 299 newspapers. He was born in Utica, N.Y.

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Betsey Barton, 45, author who achieved literary success after a crippling accident, was found dead Wednesday in the swimming pool of her home. Miss Barton, daughter of Bruce Barton, New York advertising executive, had been confined to a wheelchair since she was injured in an auto accident in 1935.

WINSTON-SALEM, N.C. (AP)—Archibald B. Taylor, 70, retired president of Taylor Brothers Tobacco Co., died Wednesday after an illness of five weeks. Taylor Brothers was acquired by the American Snuff Co. of Memphis, Tenn., in the 1950s and Taylor retired as president in 1957.

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP)—Joseph R. Wilson, 80, former president and chairman of the board of Xerox Corp. for 20 years, died Wednesday. Wilson was the son of the founder of the company and the last survivor of the firm's 12 original employes.

PUEBLO, Colo. (AP)—Michael J. Soldren, 52, a Democratic party official and executive of the United Steel Workers Union, died Wednesday, apparently of a heart attack. Soldren, who was born in Indiana, was a member of the Colorado Democratic State Executive Committee.

Freeman Pleads For Wheat Vote

DENVER (AP) — Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman told wheat farmers today that a cut in 1964 wheat acres would not be more than 10 to 15 per cent below the 1963 allotments if the 1964 wheat program is approved in a referendum next spring.

Wheat growers are operating this year under a mandatory cut of at least 10 per cent in their acreage but go back to the old program of a 55-million acre allotment for 1963 with a price support of $2 a bushel, the same as for 1962.

Congress earlier this year dropped the mandatory acreage reduction program for 1963, providing instead for voluntary cuts. But it wrote a two-price wheat certificate plan for 1964, subject to approval by a two-thirds majority in a referendum next May or June.

Freeman, in a prepared speech to the National Association of Wheat Growers, pleaded for approval of the 1964 wheat program and said that if the refcrendum is defeated "we will have utter chaos."

Opponents of the program, Freeman said, have already pushed the panic button on both acres and prices.

Greene Jail Gets Praise From State

State Commission of Correction officials have commended Greene County Sheriff Frederick G. Knight and his staff, for the satisfactory condition of cleanliness and order in all sections of the jail at Catskill.

Commissioner Edward R. Cass said inspection reports show there were no complaints by prisoners regarding food and the inspectors found the showers and plumbing in good order. The commissioner noted there has been decided improvement in the physical makeup of the Greene County Jail, with special reference to the glass block window arrangement.

Commenting on the window improvement, Commissioner Cass said that affords adequate natural light and ventilation in addition to a pleasant appearance and saves the cost of maintenance, in that the glass blocks require no painting.

The commissioner also noted that the jail personnel work a 40-hour week and active custodial coverage is provided around the clock.

Ellenville Sets Discussion on UR Map January 2

Informal discussion of a new urban renewal map for Ellenville, which shows the area to be improved under the UR program, is tentatively set for Wednesday, Jan. 2 at a meeting of the Village Board.

The map shows 231 properties within the designated area. Of that number 48 are to be unchanged, another 119 will require some changes to comform with the code standards. The remaining 64 buildings are to be razed.

The estimated cost of the project is $2,200,000, of which the village will pay one-eighth.

Under the proposed program, nine parking lots will be provided to accommodate 410 vehicles. Market Street, between Canal and Center Streets, would be converted into a mall with no vehicular traffic, and provisions would be made for a village park on Canal Street from a point east of Church Street to Water Street. The Sandburgh Creek would pass through the park.

Village officials noted that Ellenville now has $105,000 available of UR funds from the federal government for survey and planning of the development.

Budget Up $81 Million

NEW YORK (AP) — The New York City Board of Education announced Wednesday an operational budget of $645 million, an increase of nearly $81 million over the present budget.

Killed as Car Overturns

SALISBURY CENTER, N. Y. (AP)—Carl Voorhees, 60, of Stratford, was killed Wednesday when his automobile struck a ditch and overturned about two miles east of this community in Herkimer County.

In 1959 under the chairmanship of William West Jr., the Christmas program was directed by a 12-member board. This board has continued to function since then with a chairman elected from its members. Robert Carr has been chairman for the past two years.

Yule Program at Methodist Church

The annual Christmas Program of the Overlook Methodist Church Sunday School will be held Sunday at 5 p. m. in the church sanctuary. The title of the program is "Joy to the World."

Scenes of Christmas in Mexico, Germany, France, Italy, England and America will be staged by the children and youth of the church. There will be an opportunity for adults and members of the congregation to take part when the time for singing carols arrives. At the close of the program, "white gifts," gifts of clothing wrapped in white, will be presented by the children and any others who have brought them. These gifts, which may range from a handkerchief to a suit of clothes will be sent to Jesse Lee Home in Seward, Alaska. Jesse Lee is a Methodist home for "homeless" children and youth. Members of the congregation and the public are invited to share some of the joy of this holiday season by being with us for our Christmas program.

Worship on Sunday morning is at 11 o'clock. A nursery is provided during the hour of worship. The sermon topic for the morning is "Those Who Came to Bethlehem." Sunday School is at 9:45 and 10:45 for beginners and kindergarten children.

Dates on the church calendar include: Thursday, Dec. 13—Junior and senior choir, 6:45 and 7:30; Saturday, Dec. 15—Rehearsal for the Christmas program 9:30 a. m.; Monday, Dec. 24—Christmas Eve Candlelight Service at 8 p. m.

Onteora Sets Policy On School Closings

Onteora Central School has announced its policy on future early closings due to weather conditions.

On school days when snow or ice storms strike during the day, dismissal procedures will be as follows:

West Hurley and Woodstock all day session dismiss at 2:30 p. m.; West Hurley and Woodstock, afternoon session, 3:30 p. m.; Bennett School, afternoon session, 3:30 p. m.

All other schools and sessions will be discussed at the regular time. School closing instructions will originate in the office of the Superintendent of Schools. Radio stations WGHQ, WKNY and WBAZ will be notified of early closings.

Severe conditions may require other procedures on a district wide basis. In that event, instructions will be given to each school at the time. All students will be sent home with their own group. No students will be detained at school for any reason.

Eichlers Are Guests At Democratic Buffet

Mr. and Mrs. George Eichler of Bearsville will be among the guests of honor at the testimonial dinner sponsored by the Ulster County Democratic Committee Sunday, Dec. 16, at Reggie's Inn, New Patlz.

All 1962 Democratic candidates on the county and town level will be guests. A buffet supper is scheduled at 6:30 p. m. Eichler was the Democratic candidate for assessor this year.

Plutarch Road Home Destroyed By Night Fire

Fire destroyed the frame home of the Leslie Ackert family on Plutarch Road, Town of New Paltz, Wednesday night. New Paltz fire company was assisted at the scene by firemen with tankers from Clintondale, Tillson and Rifton.

Deputy Fire Chief Peter Savago, New Paltz, said the Ackerts were watching television when the TV went out of service. Ackert checked fuses on the electric switchbox in the cellar and found them in order.

Chief Savago said Ackert went to the attic and as he opened the door he was forced back by dense smoke.

Efforts to summon firemen were delayed. Chief Savago said. When firemen arrived the roof had caved in and fire swept the rear of the residence.

The origin of the blaze was not determined.

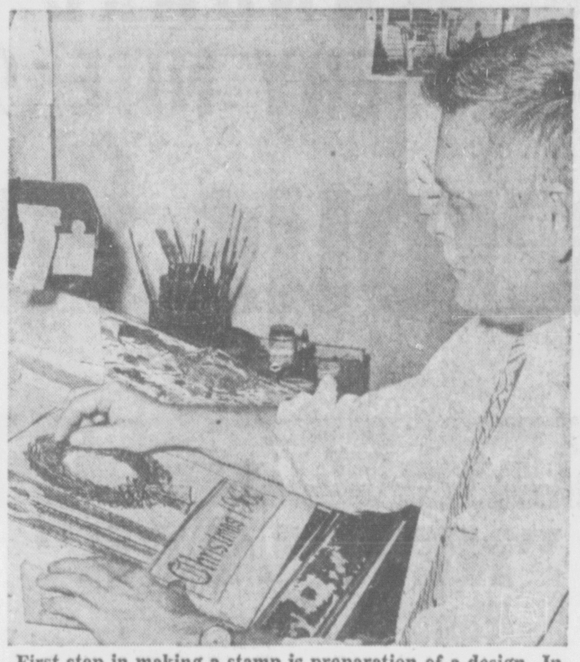

Chief Savago said the new 1,000-gallon tank truck with an International chassis and Sanford body delivered recently, was used at last night's fire.

Firemen returned to the scene twice early today to wet down smoldering debris.

First Christmas Stamp a Dud? Not by Some 885 Million

"Yule Be Sorry" was the critics' cry when Uncle Sam unveiled his first Christmas stamp, a 4-cent green-and-white production, last October. "Not so," said the public, and Post Office Department has turned out some 885 million to lick the demand. Best guess is that all will be stuck up before Christmas—on some of the 100-million-a-day flood of cars. Pictures at right and below illustrate how stamps are made, from art work through mechanical processes by Bureau of Engraving and Printing.

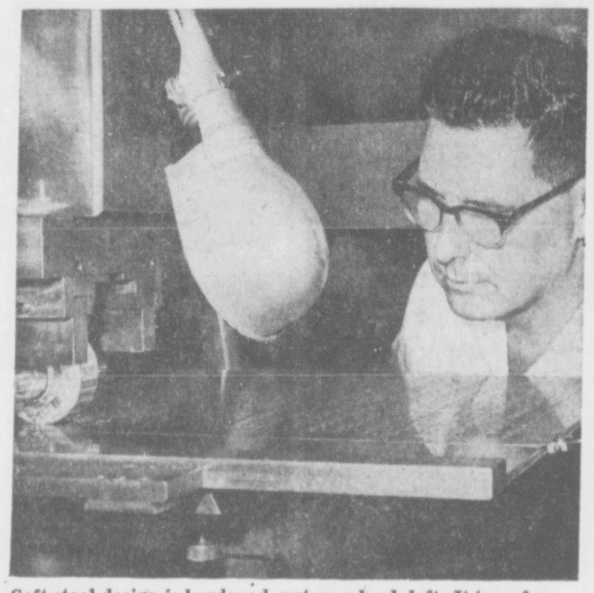

First step in making a stamp is preparation of a design. In this instance, Post Office Department artist Jim Crawford created it. Commercial artists design some of our stamps.

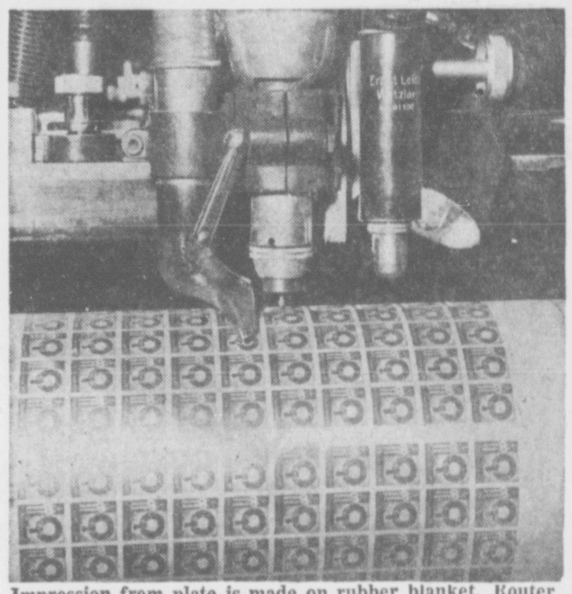

Rejected designs for Christmas stamp carried prematurely 5-cent value which goes into effect for first-class mail right after the Christmas season is over with—on Jan. 7, 1963.

Soft steel design is hardened, put on wheel, left. It transfers 400 impressions to soft steel printing plate. "Siderographer" (one who writes on iron) L. G. Hill operates machine.

Impression from plate is made on rubber blanket. Router cuts away all portions of design not printing red; second blanket has all but green design routed from the surface.

Sheets of stamps come off press to which routed blankets were attached, and are perforated on machine, above. Some three-quarter billion-Christmas stamps were printed.

Stress Railroad Crossing Caution

ALBANY—Remember the old railroad grade crossing signs that said "Stop, Look, Listen?" There are still quite a few left, and they're not out-of-date.

The New York State Department of Motor Vehicles reports that 35 people were killed and 157 injured in car-train crashes last year—most of them occurring in winter months.

Every year, the number of grade crossing accidents increases sharply in the winter months. This is due to several causes including: Reduced visibility; inadequate traction on slippery streets; tightly closed cars where the driver is distracted by the noise of heaters and radios; and general carelessness due to holiday hurry.

Too many drivers try to beat the train at the crossing—and lose. They ignore the flashing lights and clanging bell. Or they wait until the train is past and then shoot across the tracks without looking to see if another train is coming in the opposite direction.

ALBANY—Over 270 New York Army and Air National Guard vehicles will be loaned to Post Offices throughout the state to assist in mail deliveries during the 1962 Christmas holiday season, Major General A. C. O'Hara, Chief of Staff to the Governor, announced today. None are expected to be used by Kingston Post Office, according to Postmaster Oscar V. Newkirk. "This is an annual service to community postmasters performed by the New York Army and Air National Guard," General O'Hara stated. # Speech Seen Turning Point Of Moscow - Peiping Rivalry

By GEORGE SYVERTSEN

MOSCOW (AP) — Premier Khrushchev has declared war on the ideological views of Communist China and Albania and publicly made his peace with his old enemy in the Communist camp, Yugoslav President Tito.

In his speech to the Supreme Soviet Wednesday Khrushchev outlined to his people for the first time the details of his feud with the dissenting Chinese and Albanians.

A neutralist diplomat called the speech "a historic turning point" in Moscow-Peking rivalry.

An Open Affront

Khrushchev declared that dogmatism, a Communist synonym for the extreme views of the Chinese, had become just as dangerous as revisionism, a word applied to such independent Communist thinking such as Yugoslavia's.

He swore that, from now on, "Soviet Communists, to whom there is nothing higher than unity of the ranks of the world Communist movement, will fight resolutely against both right-wing and left-wing opportunism, which today is no less dangerous than revisionism."

In an open affront to the anti-Titoist Chinese and Albanians, Khrushchev declared Soviet friendship for the Yugoslav Communists.

This drew an approving nod from Tito, seated behind him on the stage, and loud applause from the deputies of the Supreme Soviet.

Khrushchev blamed Stalin for the differences that led to Yugoslavia's expulsion from the Communist camp in 1948.

"But our Yugoslav comrades were not wholly blameless," he added.

Still Divergencies

"There are still serious divergencies on a number of ideological questions, he continued, but recent moves in Yugoslav domestic and foreign policy have "eliminated much of what we regarded as erroneous and as prejudicing the cause of building socialism (communism) in Yugoslavia."

He apparently was referring to Tito's recent economic reforms, tightening central controls over decentralized Yugoslav industries, and his close support of Soviet foreign policy stands.

While never mentioning the Chinese by name, Khrushchev accused them of "sinking deeper and deeper in the quagmire of leftist opportunism, splitting tactics and sectarianism."

"In the crisis over Cuba, Yugoslav Communists took a correct position, whereas dogmatists who pose as true Marxists-Leninists took a provocative position," he said.

"What the crisis in Cuba has shown is that the main danger was represented by those who stood and stand on dogmatic positions."

2 Persons Hurt, Driver Charged In 9W Accident

Two persons were injured and a Poughkeepsie restaurant owner was charged with failing to keep to the right, as the result of a headon collision which occurred at 5 p. m. on Route 9W north of Milton Turnpike, Town of Marlboro.

State Trooper James Spencer, Highland, said the cars were a 1955 sedan owned and operated by Peter Polichak, 47, of 119 Market Street, Poughkeepsie, owner of a restaurant on Washington Street, that city, and Carl C. Johansen, of 14 Hillscrest Road Plainfield, Conn.

Spencer reported Polichak was traveling north on Route 9W and Johansen was driving south when the Poughkeepsie man's car veered to the left into the southbound lane and the vehicles collided headon.

Johnsen and his wife, whose name was not listed, were taken to St. Luke's Hospital, Newburgh. There injuries were not immediately determined.

Polichak was summoned to appear Dec. 20 before Justice of the Peace Curtis W. Northrip, Town of Marlboro, on a charge of failing to keep to the right.

Young Husband Confesses That He Killed Three

VAN NUYS, Calif. (AP) — A young husband confessed to police that he shot and killed his estranged wife and her parents in Arizona and then fled to California.

He left his year-old baby alive with the bodies.

"I was going to shoot myself in front of them," Raymond J. Hudgens, 22, recounted slowly after his capture here Wednesday. "Then I thought, 'Why not take them with me?'"

Hudgens unfolded the tale for detectives of how he fired at his wife Grace Mary, 20; and her parents, Myron Young, 67, and Dorothy Young, 55, until his pistol was empty.

"I shot bullets everywhere," he said.

The shooting occurred Monday at the Young home near Kingman, Ariz.

Hudgens told officers he shot the three after his wife rebuffed a reconciliation attempt.

He was booked here as a fugitive allegedly responsible for the Arizona murders.

Hudgens said he put his gun to his head after shooting the three victims but could not bring himself to pull the trigger.

Talks May Hold

millan in the Bahamas Dec. 19-20. The United States is now reviewing its budget for the new fiscal year. No final decision will be made until these matters have been completed.

2. The United States has put a half-billion dollars into the program so far. To complete it and buy the missiles might require $2.5 billion more. Five tests of the 1,100-mile range ballistic missile for launching from bombers have not been successful.

"So—there really is the question of how much it is worth to the British and ourselves to put in that kind of money when we have competing claims for our available funds," the President said.

Kennedy characterized the Skybolt as "the most sophisticated weapon imaginable. To fire a missile from a plane moving at high speed to hit a target 1,000 miles away requires the most advanced engineering and, of course, it has been really, in a sense, the kind of engineering that's been byond us."

British experts don't believe the Skybolt is a flop. They feel the initial troubles can be overcome.

Kennedy noted that Britain has a "very important equity in the matter."

There is, of course, the possibility that Kennedy and Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara may reconsider what seems to be the present intention to drop the program.

McNamara's talk with British Defense Minister Peter Thorneycroft in London reportedly got nowhere.

Britain, whose whole strategic nuclear strategy hinged on using the U.S. Skybolt on its own Vulcan bombers, is understood to have rejected firmly any suggestion that it might use the Hound Dog missile instead.

would be just as dependable as those of the NATO powers.

He underscored Khrushchev's peaceful coexistence theme and repeatedly called for negotiated agreements with the United States.

Without mutual understanding between the United States and the Soviet Union, it would be impossible to settle a single international conflict, Gromyko said.

"Either we must decide controversial questions at the conference table or slide into war—there is no other way out for the Soviet Union or the United States", he declared.

Despite their "ideological differences," Gromyko continued, "the Soviet government does not see any unsurmountable obstacles in the relations between the Soviet Union and the United States.

"If there is agreement between Premier Khrushchev and President Kennedy, there will be a solution of international problems on which the fate of mankind depends.

"The Soviet Union would welcome such agreements."

Tito, who followed Gromyko to the rostrum, strongly praised Khrushchev for his handling of the Cuban crisis and defended the Soviet premier's conciliatory moves against the criticism of the Communist Chinese and Albanians.

Lectured on Orient

When he returned to the United States, Sokolsky delivered a series of lectures on what he had seen in the Orient.

In the 1930s, Sokolsky wrote a column for the New York Herald Tribune. During this time, he also wrote five books.

In 1940, he began writing a nationally syndicated column for the New York Sun. Shortly after that paper ceased publication in 1950, his column, "These Days," started in the New York Journal American.

His column had been distributed by Hearst's King Features Syndicate since 1944.

Had Honorary Degrees

Sokolsky held honorary degrees from Notre Dame University, St. Bonaventure University and the University of Montana School of Mines.

A staunch conservative, Sokol-

A staunch conservative, Sokolsky dent during recent months against attacks from the business world and went so far as to champion the President against the criticism of his fellow Hearst columnist Walter Winchell.

Yet he denied that he had either become a "defender of the administration" or had departed one iota from his conservatism.

But, he explained, at a time when the President is trying to handle many prblems at once, "I just don't see any advantage in taking potshots."

Sokolsky was born Sept. 5, 1893 in Utica, N.Y., the son of a rabbi. He came to New York City as a boy and was stumping for the Republican Party against Tammany Hall while still in his childhood.

Stone Ridge Site Is Approved . . .

hearing of the action of the State University said:

"The board of trustees of Ulster County Community College are happy that a permanent site has been approved and see this as another significant step in the life of our new community college.

"A temporary office has been opened at No. 6 School. Application blanks for full-time study have been distributed; plans for an extensive program of evening study are underway and plans are moving ahead rapidly to prepare No. 2 School for temporary use when the college opens in September.

"All these events, coupled with the approval of a permanent site, are most exciting and are bringing into reality the college which the results of the referendum of Nov. 1961 revealed that the citizens of the community need and, indeed, want."

The important work of developing a long-range educational plant for the new community college is being carried forward and plans for permanent campus development will now move forward as rapidly as possible.

Approval for curricula in Liberal Arts and Sciences, Engineering Science, and Business has been requested from State University Board of Trustees and application is in process for authorization of the college to award both associate in arts and associate in applied science degree.

Additional programs will be developed, particularly in the technical area, as the further needs of the community are determined.

Information regarding full-time attendance at the college is now available and information regarding part-time and evening study will be available shortly after January 1. For detailed information those interested may write to College No. 6 School, or phone.

lapse of the Esopus Creek bridge under the weight of a trailer truck. A temporary span is in use on the site.

One of two railroads, in operation when the viaduct was built (the O&W) is now out of service, and the mountain branch of the New York Central operates only a few trains a week.

Besides the razing of the viaduct, the Washington Avenue project includes construction of a new three-span, composite I-beam bridge, 261 feet long over the Esopus Creek, the rebuilding of a section of Washington Avenue and of Route 28 between the bridge and the Thruway traffic circle. Alignment of the arterial will be generally west of the viaduct and bridge.

The creek span, which went down in the summer, was built 37 years ago to replace a smaller bridge.

A Public Service Commission order calling for elimination of the viaduct was issued early in 1960.

Add another staple to food, clothing, shelter, the daily newspaper. It's that basic.

Nearly everyone reads it (99 million people on an average weekday).

They read it thoroughly, page by page (71%)

They clip it (editorials 53%, ads 28%), quote from it (65%).

And 99 million consumers wouldn't have it any other way—an ever-changing diet of news and events, freshly packaged, eagerly consumed, thoroughly digested, completely welcome, The Daily Newspaper.

Trading Method Differs, OTC vs. Exchange Stocks

Q) "Would you please tell a novice the difference between an 'over the counter' and an 'exchange' stock?" G. R.

A) Your question comes up very frequently, and I'm glad to have a chance to answer it.

The major difference between these two types of stock lies in the method of trading. Over-the-counter, or unlisted stocks, are bought and sold as a result of private negotiations between dealers. The latter sometimes act as agents and sometimes as principals. As agents they report to you, on your statement, the price at which they have bought or sold a security and the commission they have charged for doing so. If they act as principals, they report to you only the price at which the deal has been consummated, and that price includes their own profit.

Exchange, or listed stocks are traded by public auction between brokers on the floor of the different exchanges. These trades are always made on an agency basis with commission shown.

Q) "My only holding is 400 shares of American Telephone. If this stock goes up to 125, would I be wise to sell some and re-invest in some other good utility? Am I correct in assuming that as a stock goes up in price the yield goes down?" J. G.

A) American Telephone is a fine stock, none better, but except in unusual circumstances it is unwise to keep all your eggs in one basket.

If Telephone should get to 125, the yield there would be 2.9 per cent on the present dividend. A switch of part of your holdings—say into Long Island Lighting—now yielding 3.3 per cent—would be a good move for diversification, as well as for a higher return.

Yields are figured by dividing the annual dividend rate by the price of the stock. It's simple arithmetic, really. As your divisor (market price) goes up, your answer (yield) goes down, and vice versa.

More Than 1,000 Attend Forum on Foreign Policy

An audence estimated at more than 1,000 attended a forum on the theme, The United States in a changing World, held Wednesday nght at Ellenville High School Auditorum.

Emil Stahr, eastern regional director of the Foreign Policy Association, one of two scheduled speakers, advocated the strong stand taken by the United States in the Cuban crisis.

He indicated that the U. S. should remain strong in the conventional weapons field because this nation's strength in conventional arms was one of the principal reasons Russia backed down.

He emphasized that the strong U. S. stand on Cuba halted the development of additional Castros in South American countries.

William Ruder, a former assistant secretary of commerce, in his remarks stressed the importance of economic strength and advocated building up exports and competition in the world economic market.

Harold Harris of Ellenvile, a vice president of Channel Master Corp., spoke on the beginning of the idea of platform discussion of the nation's foreign policy in Ellenville.

Dr. Vincent P. Gillen, supervising principal of Ellenville Schools, served as chairman of the meeting. A question and answer period followed the discussions.

Equal Time Law

12 Catherine Street
Ellenville, N. Y.

Editor, The Freeman:

I understand that when the Congress starts its new session that another try is going to be made by some of the politicians and broadcasters to definitely kill the equal time provision of the Federal Communications Act so that the right of the Socialist Labor Party and other minority parties to have their candidates on radio and TV will be a thing of the past.

Although I am partial to the Socialist Labor Party, I don't like to see qualified candidates of any party being deprived of having their say and that's what will happen if the equal time law is revoked.

Bearing the above in mind, with news information to newspapers becoming more and more restricted, I swear that this country is beginning to look more and more like Russia and Spain!

Sincerely your,
NATHAN PRESSMAN

Along Capitol Corridors

By ROBERT T. GRAY

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — Gov. Rockefeller was, in some respects, standing in a glass house when he threw stones at the federal approach to the nation's economic problems.

The Republican governor, in a speech last week to the National Association of Manufacturers, cited his own administration as one that had dealt properly with concerns of the business community.

First Since Reelection

It was the governor's first major speech since he won re-election. The address, critical of the Democratic national administration, was of keen political interest because of Rockefeller's position as a leading candidate for the GOP nomination for president in 1964.

The governor spoke of the importance of what was done on the national level to "remove federal impediments to economic growth and to increase federal incentives for individual initiative, investment of private capital and expansion of free enterprise."

At the same time, prospects are dim that New York State will remove three provisions that many businessmen consider impediments to growth and hindrances to individual initiative.

They are the full-crew laws, imbalances in taxes to support the unemployment insurance fund, and provisions that strikers, after a waiting period, may obtain unemployment benefits paid for by the employers against whom year is affected.

While changes in those areas have long been major goals of the New York business community, the subjects have become intertwined with politics.

Leaders Reluctant

Leaders of both major parties have been reluctant to take the strong action that would be required.

After a study of the full-crew laws, the Public Service Commission said almost three years ago that "there is no reasonable need from the view-point of the safety of railroad operations. . .for continuing in existence the statutory enactments mandating the minimum crew requirements...."

The state's railroad industry seized upon this clear-cut support. But pressure from organized labor neutralized the effect of the PSC report and the full-crew laws remained.

The manner in which costs of unemployment insurance are apportioned also has been a long-standing grievance of the industrial and business community.

Employers pay the full cost of that insurance through payroll taxes levied by the state. Theoretically, the tax a business pays into the state fund reflects the amount of benefits its employes withdraw from that fund.

But some industries have far more unemployment than others. The garment and construction industries, both highly seasonal, have periods of high unemployment.

These industries do not pay a tax equivalent to the drain their workers place on the fund.

Businesses with more stable employment complain that they are forced to subsidize those with high unemployment.

But, again, the issue is tied up in politics. The garment industry is the province of the International Ladies Garment Workers Union. That union is a mainstay of the small but influential Liberal Party, which often holds the balance of power between Republicans and Democrats.

Mayor Comments On Village Party Political Dinner

Saugerties Mayor George Holmes, Independent Party leader asked to comment on the recent political dinner of the Village Party issued the following statement.

"The Village Party has apparently been taken over by the Barclay Heights shopping center crowd judging from those in attendance at the affair last Saturday night.

"The presence of the business people from Barclay Heights explains the eagerness of Village Trustees Robert Moser and Cornelius Cox to provide unlimited water for the Barclay Heights developments at the Village Board meetings last spring. In my opinion, due to the behind the scenes activities of these people, the party should be named, 'The Barclay Heights Party.'

"No village business man will question the fact that he is in direct competition with the businesses at Barclay Heights. Every effort is being made by these people on the heights to draw business away from the village to the shopping center.

One of the leaders of the shopping center interests stated to a town official that it would be better to move the town buildings to the heights since the village is dead.

"These are the people who are pulling the strings from behind the Village Party."

DAR Holds Yule Program, Party

A Christmas party was held during the social hour which followed the business meeting of the Saugerties Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, at the home of Mrs. Emerson Hull Saxton, Wednesday afternoon. Mrs. Carroll Nieffer, program committee chairman, pointed out that the time was appropriate for such a Christmas gathering as it was the afternoon before St. Nicholas Eve.

Festivities began with a contest in which members were asked to identify the names of Christmas songs from which excerpts were taken. Following the contest there was group singing and an exchange of Christmas gifts. There was also a collection of gifts to be sent to David Newton Turner, the chapter's adopted student at Tamassee School.

The highlight of the afternoon was the program presented by Miss Pauline Hommell, chapter historian. She first gave a short history of the old stone house, present home of Mr. and Mrs. Hull, in which she was born and grew up. She traced its history from the time of Cornelius Wynkoop, who built it about 1799 or 1800 and to which he brought his lovely young bride, down to the present day.

Folowing the historical sketch there was the reading of a poem "The Inn That Missed Its Chance" by Amos B. Wells from Margaret Tarrant's collection of poems and prose selections, "A Christmas Garland."

Mrs. Hull was assisted by Mrs. Laurence Murray, Mrs. Willis Cass, Mrs. William Cotton and many members present.

At the next meeting on the afternoon of Jan. 2, Miss Dorothy Haussler, exchange student to South America, sponsored by the local Rotary Club, will speak on International Associations. The place of meeting will be announced at a later date.

Rotary Club Plans

Area Woman, Teener Are Held For Beer Theft

Kingston police, acting on leads which turned up earlier in the week, Wednesday night charged a young woman and a 15-year-old boy with theft Dec. 7 from the Kingston Maennerchor, Greenkill Avenue, of five cases of beer and Christmas lights.

Dinah M. Eich, 20, of Route 1, Woodstock, appeared today before City Judge Joseph D. Saccoman on a third degree burglary charge and the case was put over to Friday to permit her time to obtain counsel. The boy is to be dealt with as a juvenile delinquent.

Troopers, Police Cooperate

Information leading to the arrest came while local detectives were working with state police in the investigation of a series of recent burglaries most of which were in the county. The charges against the two were lodged by Detectives Charles McCullough and William Slover. Police claim admission that a local store had been entered, but no specific charge dealing with that was listed.

Entrance to the Maennerchor building, it is claimed, was gained through a rear door, and police were told that a party was held in the Lawton Park building after the theft.

Bail for the young woman, fixed at $500, was not immediately posted.

May Be Others

Police indicated this morning that further investigation could lead to charges against others. Probe of several burglaries has been in progress for some time.

Detectives said the questioning of two persons Tuesday resulted in information leading to the arrests. Two juveniles and six other persons were questioned Wednesday, and assistance was given state police during investigation of burglaries in the county.

Car Is Stolen

Another report at 10:40 p. m. said Donald Holland Germain, of 2 Kalina Drive, Forest Park, Rhinebeck, a teacher at the local high school reported that the ignition mechanism of his car had been tampered with while the car was parked near the high school field house. The glove compartment had been entered he said, but nothing appeared to be missing.

Both Sides Rest In Party Trial

WASHINGTON (AP) — Both the government and the Communist party ended their cases today in the trial of the party for failure to register as an agent of the Soviet Union.

The government called only one witness, reporter Will Lissner of The New York Times.

Defense Attorney John J. Abt called no witnesses, and asked U.S. Dist. Judge Alexander Holtzoff for a directed verdict of not guilty.

Holtzoff took the motion under advisement and ordered a brief recess.

Abt limited his defense to cross-examining Lissner. He asked the judge to compare the reporter's testimony with testimony he gave before the grand jury that handed down the 12-count indictment a year ago.

Lissner testified Wednesday that a top Communist, Gus Hall, told a news conference June 8, 1961 that the party would defy the requirement of the 1950 Subversive Activities Control Act to register and provide information about its membership and finances.

The party now contends it has complied with the act that requires registration.

Explains Rotary Fellowship Plan

Rotary Foundation Fellowships for International Understanding, the purpose of which is to cultivate greater awareness and broader friendly relationship between Americans and people of other countries, was outlined by the Rev. Dr. Ralph Mortensen before the Kingston Rotary Club at its luncheon-meeting Wednesday.

From 1930 to 1942, Dr. Mortensen served as general secretary of the Lutheran Board of Publication of the Luther Church of China. From 1936 to 1941 until the Japanese Armed Forces closed down the Rotary movement on Pearl Harbor Day, he served as a member of the Rotary Clubs in Hupeh, China and president of the Rotary Club of Hankow. His imprisonment following Pearl Harbor and his repatriation to the United States on the Gripsholm and the friendliness with which he was treated by Rotarians was vividly described by the speaker.

Returning to China in 1944, he was elected to membership in the Rotary Club of Chungking, Free China's war-time capital in West China. Later he became a member of the Rotary Club of Shanghai, where he and Mrs. Mortensen had been kept under strict surveillance by the Communists for two years.

The Rotary Foundation program makes funds available to qualified college graduates to continue their education abroad. The project is financed through contributions by Rotary Clubs.

The speaker was introduced by Robert L. Sabin, chairman of the Kingston Rotary Club Foundation Committee.

Next Wednesday the Kingston High School A Cappella Choir will present its annual Christmas program before the Rotarians and their Rotary Anns.

Expect Arrest Of Two to Clear Up Burglaries

The arrest of two local youths late Wednesday in a cooperative effort by Kingston Police Department and state police at Lake Katrine is expected to clear up almost a score of minor burglaries committed in Ulster and Dutchess Counties.

Charged with third degree burglary in connection with the burglaries were William Ferguson, 19 of Sawkill, and Charles Joe Jones, 20 of Wrentham Street, Kingston.

Both waived examination when they appeared before Town of Ulster Justice of the Peace Arthur A. Reilly and were committed to Ulster County jail pending grand jury action.

State Police BCI investgators

State Police BCI investigators connection with burglaries during the past several months at Rudi's Service Station, West Hurley, operated by Town of Woodstock Justice of the Peace Rudolph C. Baumgarten; Highway Truck Sales, Albany Avenue Extension; Muffler Inc., Lake Katrine; Town and Country, Rhinebeck; Bob's Meat Market, Lake Katrine; G & J Gas Station, Saugerties; Dick's Service Station, Barclay Heights; Smishkoff's Servce Station, Glenford; Brown's Gasoline Station, Morton Boulevard, Town of Ulster, and a private home in Dutchess County.

Most of the burglaries involved forcing of vending machines, the theft of tools and cigarettes, it was reported.

Participating in the investgation are Kingston Detective Charles McCullough, BCI Senior Investigators Frank Stainkamp and Edward Shannon, and Investigator Joseph Ventriglia.

Attorney Hails Tulane Decision As 'Courageous'

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP)—An attorney for the first two Negroes accepted to enter Tulane University has hailed the school's decision as "a courageous step forward."

The 128-year-old university took the action voluntarily Wednesday after a federal court declined to order enrollment of the Negroes, Barbara Marie Guillory and Pearlie Hardin Elloie.

Both sought admission as graduate students. They now are eligible for spring term enrollment.

"The coercive force of a court order will never be a substitute for this type of voluntary recognition of the rights of others," their attorney, John P. Nelson Jr., said.

The Tulane chapter of the American Association of University Professors commended the decision.

Their action reaffirmed a 1961 decision that Tulane would admit qualified students regardless of race or color if it were legally permissible.

The university had earlier looked on restrictions in donations of Paul Tulane and Josephine Newcomb and in state ties as racial barriers. Tulane and Mrs. Newcomb, early benefactors, had contributed funds toward education of white students.

The Negroes had contended Tulane had certain state ties and was not a wholly private institution.

But U.S. Dist. Judge Frank B. Ellis, in his ruling last week, said:

1. Tulane can act as it wishes because no court may enforce racial restrictions in private agreements.

2. Tulane as a private institution, did not have to admit Negroes, but it was free to do so if it wanted.

Clove Valley Emmet, 115,785 pounds of milk and 4,268 pounds of butterfat in 2,472 days on official test. Owned by G.S.V. Andrews & Son, LaGrangeville.

Toby Hill Chief Var Mabel, 107,319 pounds of milk and 4,342 pounds of butterfat in 3,418 days on official test. Owned by Cortez J. and Donald Pells, Hillsdale.

Weatherall Duke Sue, 100,548 pounds of milk and 3,246 pounds of butterfat in 3,509 days on official test. Owned by Mrs. Joseph Kumstar, Walden.

To date more than 14,900 holsteins have exceeded this outstanding production mark on official tests. Many more have achieved simimlar goals in unofficial testing programs. This volume of production, representing approximately five times the lifetime total of the average dairy cow, can be attributed to the registered holstein's unparalleled longevity coupled with recent advances in breeding, feeding, and management.

Battle Cry Seems To Echo Still on Historic Route

By DAVID LANCASHIRE

KHYBER PASS, Pakistan (AP) — The clang of ancient battle seems to echo still from the limestone cliffs of this historic invasion route where Alexander the Great's soldiers marched into India and generations of British troops fought the Pathan tribesmen.

But now you can drive comfortably through Khyber Pass in a taxi and buy a porcelain bust of Abraham Lincoln or a bag of fresh popcorn on the way.

Pose for Tourists

Tribesmen, with guns clutched in their hands and chests lopped with bandoliers of cartridges, smile and pose for pictures. The road that twists along 21 miles of Khyber Pass is a tourist route.

Under the colorfully calm exterior, however, tribal passions still boil and the pass is once again a point of tension. American aid which poured through the famous mountain valley until last year is affected.

Cut through great brown shale and limestone walls, Khyber Pass joins West Pakistan and Afghanistan. Over the centuries foreign invaders have used it to conquer India—Greeks, Tartars, Moguls and Persians.

Mrs. John F. Kennedy made a one-woman invasion of it this year, and vi" ers reminisce hungrily about the feast given in her honor.

Road of Conquerors

British soldiers of the Indian army used to lead expedition after expedition through it for wars against Afghanistan and to subdue riflewielding tribesmen who created havoc on the frontier. In nearby Jagdalik Pass the Pathans wiped out a retreating British army of 16,000 men in 1841.

The Khyber is a restricted and loosely administered tribal area still. Visitors need a special entry pass from the Pakistan government. Tribal justice rules and shooting feuds are common.

Garishly colored buses bulging with passengers, baggage geese and chickens grind up the pass road. Hooded women in baggy trousers trek to their fortified mudvillages with bundles of firewood on their heads.

A Free Ride

Alongside runs a railway built with many tunnels in 1925. The tribesman ride it free. A few years ago they shot a conductor who insisted on collecting fares.

The political trouble that swirls around the pass today is another tribal affair. Pakistan and Afghanistan broke off diplomatic relations 15 months ago when Afghan diplomats were accused of fomenting strife and subversion among tribesmen in the frontier area.

Kabul traditionally has brought its imports through Pakistan — many of them through Khyber Pass. It stopped when the dispute arose. Pakistan lost a lucrative transport business, but Afghanistan may have cut off its nose to spite its face.

Now the country has no practical way of importing anything. Some goods still come in through the Soviet Union or follow an almost prohibitively expensive roundabout route through Iran.

The United States has virtually suspended aid since materials cannot be brought in.

HOUSE ON A CREEK—Retired contractor Don Hall built retaining walls along the banks of a small creek in a picturesque setting near Ripley, W. Va., then built a carport and a comfortable four room home across the stream.

ALL DOLLED UP . . . Edna Hesse, an elevator operator, poses among some of the more than 9,000 dolls, toys and games collected by employees of the New York Telephone Company. Each year company employees in many areas of the state dress dolls and donate toys to help make Christmas a little happier for many handicapped and needy youngsters in children's homes and settlement houses. Some of the dolls collected by one group of telephone people are shown in the above photograph.

Five Killed in Fall

HILLSBORO, Ore. (AP)—Fourteen men fell 60 feet when a partly completed reservoir roof collapsed Wednesday night. Five were killed.

The other nine were injured. One of them is in serious condition.

The men were only half an hour from pouring the last concrete on the roof of the reservoir when scaffolding gave way.

TEMPLE IN HILLS — The first Baha'i temple to be built in Europe nears completion in the Taunus hills near Frankfurt, West Germany. The edifice was raised by joining prefabricated parts. The temple consecration is scheduled for next spring.

Romanoff's Closing

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (AP) —Romanoff's, for more than two decades a sartorial showplace for movie stars dining out, is closing its doors for good Dec. 31.

Proprietor Mike Romanoff admits it's no coincidence that the famed restaurant is going out of business on the eve of the Internal Revenue Service crackdown on expense account living.

"It's an end of an era," he said Wednesday.

The State Education Department announced today the names of the winners of 100 Regents Scholarships for Medicine and Dentistry. Each of these scholarships entitles the holders to an award of $350 to $1,000 a year, while attending an approved medical or dental college in New York State, for a period of not to exceed four years of professional study. The amount of the award is based on financial ability.

Winning a regents scholarship award for medicine in this area was Stephen M. Zang, Sherry Lane, Kingston.

Scholarship winners will be entitled to receive scholar incentive assistance in addition to the scholarship award. The amount of scholar incentive assistance ranges from $200 to $400 for the first year of study and from $400 to $800 thereafter. ## Of Many Things

by DOROTHY A. NAREL

Freeman Society Editor

The Music of Christmas

The mice have been at the bellows, Father. I can't play the organ for Christmas," Franz Gruber told his pastor the sad news. Father Joseph Mohr responded by writing "Silent Night, Holy Night" which Herr Gruber set to music. They sang the new song together at Christmas services to guitar accompaniment. This was the origin of one of our best loved hymns in Oberndorf, Austria, 1818.

Church choirs still strive to recreate the first music of Christmas.

Early Christians never took a fancy to the solemn chants of convents and monasteries, but St. Francis of Assisi raised their hearts and voices when he set religious themes to merry music in the 13th century. People went home humming his sermons and carols were born.

The word "carol" means a dance in a ring. At first it described group singing and dancing in any festive season. For the last few hundred years, "carol" refers specifically to Christmas music, sacred or secular.

Italy, France, Germany, England and America have carol literature and traditions of their own. Early songs weren't written down, they were carried by wandering minstrels and folk singers. They went through so many changes of words and melody their creators probably wouldn't recognize them today.

Medieval carols seem to have been written as scripts for religious drama. Vivid pictures in the verses move the listener from scene to scene and moods change from coarse humor to reverence as the story of the Nativity progresses.

Religious folk songs were popular until the Puritans coming into power, frowned on such pagan excesses. They said festival music was sacrilegious and dishonored God.

They outlawed Christmas.

A Puritan law of 1644 made December 25 a market day. Shops were required to remain open. Stiff fines, even jail sentences, awaited anyone caught "celebrating" Christmas. People obediently wore straight faces and hummed merrily under their breath. Christmas music went "underground."

"Broad sheets" were printed each year to keep texts alive with some accuracy. The law wasn't strictly enforced, children still sang from door to door and neighbors gathered on Christmas Eve to chorus, "Love and Joy, Come to You!"

The Restoration eventually led music back into church.

Some 18th century sophisticates found folk songs too simple for their taste. Holiday spirits, even in cities, clamored for musical expression and it was at this time that some of the noblest composers fashioned "respectable" Christmas music. Bach wrote his exultant oratorio and Handel created the "Messiah" with its magnificent "Hallelujah Chorus."

No one is sure who wrote "Adeste Fideles." Credit is usually given St. Bonaventure.

Late last century church musicians and laymen tracked down carols sung throughout the world and printed them for the enjoyment of future generations.

It was Mrs. Cram, however, of Boston, who made caroling a rich American tradition.

The year was 1910. As Christmas preparations were completed, the lady remembered legends of medieval England where "waits" —night watchmen—went caroling through the streets. She reached for her telephone and within an hour, a dozen neighbors had promised Mrs. Cram to light candles in their windows on Christmas Eve and come outdoors to sing with her. The group expanded each year and Beacon Hill, where caroling had once been an offense against the state won fame as the home of modern American caroling!

Community singing grows more popular every year, thousands of Americans belong to Christmas choral groups. In Santa Barbara, carolers masquerade in the flowing red capes and peaked hoods of ancient Europe. Others find their greatest enjoyment indoors, near family and fireside listening to the harmonies of the organ, piano and group singing. Most Americans attend church services where, perhaps best of all, they can thrill to one of the most inspiring sounds — the music of Christmas!

Patricia Ann Joy, James Klementis Wed At St. Catherine Laboure, December 1

Miss Patricia Ann Joy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chester E. Joy of 49 Harwich Street, this city, exchanged nuptial vows with James Klementis, son of Mrs. Alexander Klementis of Zena, on Saturday, Dec. 1 at 2 p. m. The double ring ceremony took place at St. Catherine Laboure Church with the Rev. Bernard Gerrity officiating. Mr. Altomari was the organist and Miss Carolyn Rutz, soloist.

The church was decorated with white gladioli. Family pews were marked with white bows.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of silk and rayon peau taffeta fashioned with a lace appliqued circlet neckline, long sleeves with points over the wrists, fitted bodice and a full hooped skirt with circular train. Her veil of French illusion was held by a crown of seed pearls and rhinestones. She carried a cascade of white spider chrysanthemums, stephanotis and holly leaves.

The bride's twin sister, Virginia Joy of 49 Harwich Street, was the maid of honor. She wore a gold velvet gown with scooped neckline, tapered sleeves, molded bodice and controlled ballerina length skirt. A matching hat with a rose inset held a circular flirtation veil.

The bridesmaids wore scarlet gowns with scooped necklines, tapered sleeves and ballerina length skirts. Their matching hats with rose insets held circular flirtation veils and they carried gold bells with sprays of feathered red carnations and holly.

Serving as bridesmaids were Sandra Klementis and Patricia Klementis of Zena, Lucille Bessmer of Glenerie Lake and Gerry Fisher of Kingston.

Richard Klementis of Sawkill was best man for his brother. Ushers were David Mellert of Zena, David Bennet of Rosendale, John Sylvester of Zena and Chester Joy, brother of the bride.

A reception for 75 guests was given at the Hilltop Restaurant in Stony Hollow after the church ceremony.

The bride is a graduate of Kingston High Schol and is employed by Ferroxcube. Her husband, an alumnus of Kingston High, is employed by Ulster Homes in Woodstock.

Mr. and Mrs. Klementis will reside in Zena.

We The Women

BY RUTH MILLETT
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

News item: "The AFL-CIO has announced that it has set up a task force to push the drive for a 35-hour week."

Before they win their fight the workng men affected had better know that once they get a 35-hour week things are going to be different around home.

They'd better not expect to be treated like the hard-working member of the family by mothers of young children to whom a 35-hour week would seem like vacationing.

Let them come home and complain about how tired they are, once their work week is 35 hours, instead of being called "Poor Dear" and urged to stretch out on the sofa with the evening paper they'll probably hear nothing but a hollow, incredulous laugh.

For the truth is that a housewife with only two children, and that's a small family these days, spends at least 35 hours a week on marketing, preparing meals and cleaning up afterward. And keeping a family is just one phase of homemaking.

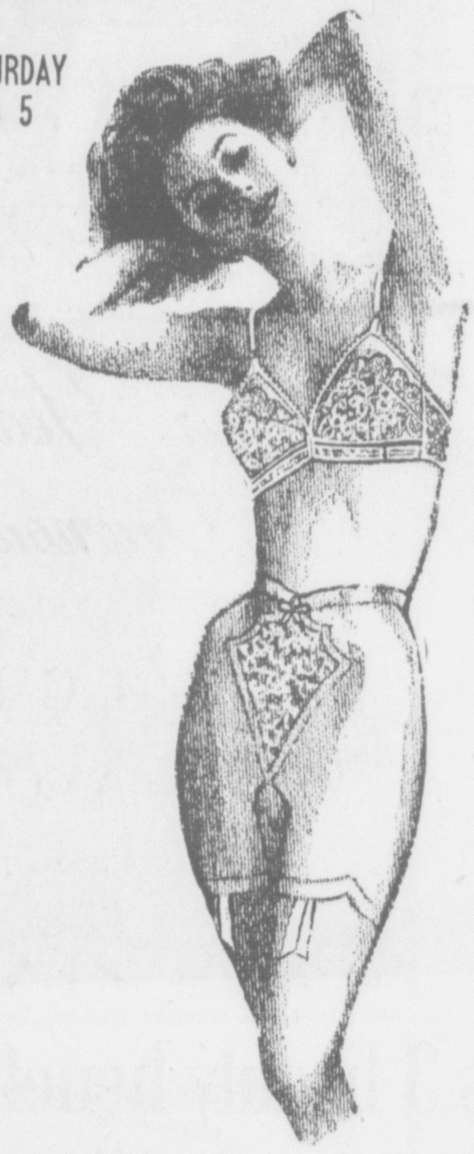

So if the wives of 35-hour-a-week workng men ever start keeping track of what their own working hours per week add up to, things are bound to change on the home front.

Overworked wives are certainly going to demand more help around the house from their underworked husbands.

So added to their 35-hour work week, the men had better count on putting in quite a few more hours at home giving the little woman a helping hand. So maybe that 35-hour week, when and if it comes, isn't gong to be all velvet for the family man.

A GIRL'S LODGING

Q: While glancing through a magazine recently, I came across an article on the subject of a girl's weekend dates away from home. It said: "The boy provides your room and all regular expenses of your visit." When I was a young man I was taught that for a man to pay for a lady's sleeping quarters was highly compromising and most improper. Will you please tell me if this rule has changed and if it is now considered proper for a man to pay for a woman's lodging?

A: It is most improper for a man, as an individual, to pay for a woman's lodging. A group of men, such as the members of a college fraternity may, however, quite properly take several rooms in a hotel for the young women they have invited to their annual weekend, and pay for these rooms.

Refusing to Go to a Party

Q: Just recently my son became engaged and his fiancee's parents had an engagement party for her. I was invited indirectly (through my son) to the party. I felt that an invitation should have come from the girl's mother and therefore did not go to the party. I understand the girl's parents are quite put out with me for taking this atttiude. I would like to know if I was wrong to do as I did or should I have gone to the party on my son's invitation?

A: You should have received an invitation from the girl's mother, but in view of your future relations with her, and for the sake of your son you should have waived ceremony and gone to the party.

He Breaks the Engagement

Q: I broke my engagement to a young woman because I realized it would be a grave mistake to go through with it. I expected her to return the engagement ring and when she did not do so, I asked her for it. She refused to return it on the ground that as I broke the engagement she is entitled to keep the ring. Will you please tell me if this is true

A: Even though you broke the engagement, she should return the ring. Her wishing to keep a ring with such unhappy memories solely because of its monetary value shows lack of breeding.

See Mother's Side of It

Dear Kathy: I'm 15, am in the 10th grade, and very shy.

I'm quite skinny for my age. Mother gives me vitamins but it doesn't make me any fatter. What should I do about this? One of the reasons I'm small is that I have asthma. I weigh about 94 pounds.

I would also like to become closer to my mother. How can this be done? I argue a lot with my brothers and sisters, too. How can I overcome this?

Another problem I have is that I don't talk as plainly as other children. Please answer my questions because it will do me a lot of good. Honest.—Misfortune.

Dear Misfortune: Let's consider how you can become closer to mother, because I think that's the most important problem. Brothers, sisters and you add up to lots of responsibility. Have you wondered what your mother's problems might be and how it might be possible to help?

Worrying only about yourself could mean that you demand attention without considering how frantic she is at the moment. She could be impatient even though she loves you.

You probably know what a nice feeling it is to have someone quietly volunteering assistance when you need it. Show mother that you care enough about her to do something useful.

Try to arrange time with your mother when the other children are busy: Ask her about things that happened when she was growing up. I'll bet she had worries, too, and you'll learn how understanding she can be.

Your doctor may prefer you slender right now because of your asthma. Ask him about supplementary foods.

Talk frankly to someone in the guidance department at school or to your English teacher. If they know you care, you'll receive help with voice exercises.

Back in the 1930s, film star Jean Harlow set the fashion pace with her beautiful bias cut evening gowns in satin. This influence is felt in 1962 in fashion and extends to nightgowns, too. Antron and nylon are used in this gown (left) with lace bodice and slinky skirt. Here is Jean Harlow (center) as she looked in bias cut nightgown and extravagant marabou trimmed robe. And another gown showing the Harlow influence (right) is as slithery as any the star ever wore. Dacron and silk are combined in this long, bias-cut nightdress. It has the look of an evening gown of the 1930s.

Missile Will Get Tougher Tests In Coming Year

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army is planning to throw a more difficult challenge at its Nike Zeus antimissile missile in tests next year.

So far, the Nike Zeus has scored two announced successes in relatively simple intercepts of target warheads fired over the Pacific from the California coast.

The latest of these successful intercepts came Wednesday when a slim, white Nike Zeus rocket arched up from Kwajalein in the mid-Pacific and met an Atlas warhead launched from 5,000 miles away.

Next year the Army plans to have the Air Force send up plastic shapes and other "junk" along with target warheads.

This will be intended to help determine the ability of the key "discrimination radar" to tell the difference between the actual warhead and clutter.

Women Defy Solons, Ask JFK Parley

WASHINGTON (AP)—Members of a women's peace movement have defied investigating congressmen at a House hearing and asked for a chance to talk with President Kennedy.

A House subcommittee on Un-American Activities resumes its inquiry today, with Mrs. Dagmar Wilson, a founder of the Women Strike for Peace, scheduled as a witness. The group is the chief target of the investigation.

Anna MacKenzie of Westport, Conn., a leader of the peace group, risked a contempt of Congress citation Wednesday in refusing to answer questions on whether she had participated in Communist activities.

"These are not questions, these are stones that are being thrown at me," she said when the subcommittee accused her of being active in Communist-front organizations as a college student in the 1930s, and of having been a member of the Communist party in 1943.

"I am particularly not invoking the self-incrimination clause of the Fifth Amendment," she said in refusing to answer questions. "I'm standing on my rights as an American citizen."

Subcommittee Chairman Clyde Doyle, D-Calif., ordered her to answer and still she refused.

"Are you aware there may be a possible contempt prosecution?" asked Alfred M. Nittle, the subcommittee counsel.

"Yes," said Mrs. MacKenzie.

The full committee would have to vote a citation. "Nine times out of ten we avoid contempt," Doyle said after the hearing.

Three Others Invoke 5th

Three other witnesses, Elizabeth Moos and Rose Clinton of New York City, and Iris Freed of Larchmont, N.Y., all invoked the Fifth Amendment in refusing to answer questions about Communist activities.

Seven members of the Women Strike for Peace met Wednesday night with Arthur Schlesinger Jr., a special assistant to Kennedy.

Virginia Naeve of South Woodstock, Vt., said they told Schlesinger they had been seeking an audience with Kennedy since last April. She said Schlesinger indicated he would arrange an appointment sometime in the future, but did not make a definite commitment.

Schlesinger couldn't be reached for comment on the meeting.

Po'keepsie Probes Theft

Poughkeepsie detectives today continued investigation of the reported theft of $246 in cash and checks from a cabinet in Abdoo's grocery store, 133 Main Street, that city. Police Chief John L. Martin said the store was entered through a hole in the wall of an adjacent storeroom.

Taylor NFL Player of Year; Sherman Is Rated Top Coach

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Jim Taylor, Green Bay's crashing fullback who is noted for his great second effort, was voted Player of the Year in the National Football League today by an Associated Press committee of sports writers and broadcasters from the 14 league cities.

Taylor, a 27-year-old former Louisiana State ace in his fifth year of pro ball, grabbed the award won last year by Paul Hornung, the Packers' glamorous triple threat halfback who has been crippled by a knee injury this season.

With one more game to play, Taylor already has tied the NFL record by scoring 18 touchdowns, all on the ground, and leads the league in scoring with 108 points.

Packer Fans Pleased

Packer fans have been insisting that Taylor deserved to be named the All-Star fullback over Cleveland's Jimmy Brown. They finally got their wish this season. Brown's fabulous five-year reign as rushing champion is sure to end and Taylor appears sure to succeed him. Taylor has gained 1,318 yards in 249 carries, 206 yards more than John Henry Johnson of Pittsburgh, his closest competitor. Brown is fourth with 861 yards.

Y. A. Tittle, the old "bald eagle" who has thrown 27 touchdown passes for the New York Giants, finished a strong second to Taylor in the voting. Taylor drew 19 ballots, Tittle had 13 and Bobby Mitchell, Washington flanker back had four.

Taylor is a key to Coach Vince Lombardi's system of ball control that has seen the Packers score 38 of their 50 touchdowns on the ground and only 12 through the air.

"Taylor may not be as big as some fullbacks but he has balance and determination," said Lombardi earlier. "He is hard to knock off his feet and he fights for every yard."

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Allie Sherman, winner of a second term as Coach of the Year in the National Football League, rates his 1962 New York Giants a better club than last year's Eastern Conference champs.

Sherman outpointed four contenders in the voting of an Associated Press committee of sports writers and broadcasters from the 14 league cities today.

The committee gave Sherman 13 votes to 10 for Bill McPeak of Washington, seven each for Vince Lombardi of Green Bay and Tom Landry of Dallas and four for George Wilson of Detroit.

"I am grateful for this honor," said Sherman in his office at Yankee Stadium, where he is preparing the Giants for Sunday's game with Dallas. "I didn't know anybody ever repeated. I want to thank all the players and my staff."

Praises Tittle

Sherman said one big reason for the club's improvement was the fact that Y.A. Tittle and the players had grown to know one another better. He pointed out that Tittle, acquired last year from San Francisco, had been injured in the 1961 training season and missed the opening game.

"Tittle had to learn the whole club last year," he said. "Now he knows what they can do and we know what to expect from him.

"Another thing that has helped us is that we were able to firm up our backfield with Phil King and Alex Webster. I don't think we started the same two running backs in any game all last season."

Sherman didn't say it but he knew the club had to be better than last year if it expected to handle Green Bay in their probable meeting Dec. 30 for the title. Don't think he has forgotten that 37-0 licking last year.

RENO, Nev. — Eddie Andrews, 160, Reno, outpointed Rudolph Bent, 157, British Honduras, 10.

SHS to Oppose Plains Cagers This Afternoon

Pine Plains Central School, which hasn't lost a regular season basketball game in more than three seasons, invades the Saugerties High gym this afternoon for a 4:45 game with the Sawyers.

Coach Les Barton's cagers have a 2-0 mark to date, having beaten Webutuck and Cardinal Farley Military Academy. Saugerties has a 1-4 record. Coach Bud Smith's club opened with a win over Wappingers Falls but then lost to Hudson, Albany Academy, Beacon and Catskill.

Pine Plains has won the Section One small school championship for the past three seasons. Despite the fact the school has only about 150 boys, it plays the likes of Wappingers Falls, Arlington, Lourdes and Saugerties this season.

Gotham Bowl Is Definite, Game Set Saturday

NEW YORK (AP) — Harried Gotham Bowl officials said today requested expense money had been deposited for the Miami and Nebraska teams and that the football game definitely would be held Saturday at Yankee Stadium.

"The money has been deposited, the light is green all the way and the game is on," said a spokesman for Bob Curran, the Gotham's executive director. "Miami arrives this afternoon and Nebraska will get in tomorrow morning.

"We are holding a press conference at the Miami headquarters at a hotel here this afternoon and will answer all questions then, including those on television."

The spokesman said the television arrangements had been completed and the game would be telecast by a network.

The Miami, Fla., Hurricanes had asked that $30,000 be put in escrow and Nebraska had asked that $35,000 be posted to guarantee expenses before the teams would leave for New York.

Lema Opens Defense Of Mexican Open Title

Lema, of San Leandro, Calif., snapped the course mark on the 7,522-yard Hacienda Golf Club by fourt strokes, with a 32-32 round. He had an eagle and six birdies.

Jumpin' Joe Uhl pumped 34 points to pace Tony's Pizzeria to a 76-53 rout of Balotin's in YMCA League basketball action Wednesday night. The former Kingston High school ace rimmed 15 decues and four free throws.

In the companion game, Frank Allen dunked 31 in the 50 Club's 85-47 romp over Trailways Cafeteria. Allen hit with 14 fields and three singletons.

The Pizzeria cagers got off to a 15-7 quarter lead and were in front 36-20 at the half. Bob Short added 12 points to the winning total. Sal Goldin and Joe Dalleo bucketed 19 points each for Balotin's.

Balanced Attack

Three 50 Club players hit in double figures besides Allen's 31-point harvest. Eric Broberg contributed 17, Eddie Koeppen 12 and Hank Bernard 10, as the 50 Club broke the game open with 44-17 bulge in the second half. They led 41-30 at halftime.

Dan Levy's 18 points paced Trailways, with William Fitzgerald adding 15.

Warring Sports Factions Agree To Arbitration

NEW YORK (AP) — Soundly spanked by President Kennedy for "continued bickering" that threatened U.S. participation in the Olympics, both the Amateur Athletic Union and the new college-dominated U.S. Track and Field Federation agreed today to submit their differences to an arbitration panel.

The President called for such arbitration at his news conference Wednesday "on behalf of the country and on behalf of sports." Kennedy had warned that if the organizations refused, "we will not have an Olympic team in 1964."

"We will submit to the panel suggested by the President," said Col. Don Hull, executive director of the AAU.

"I think the President is absolutely right," said Chick Werner, longtime Pennsylvania State track coact who heads the new federation.

Byers Amenable

"The federation has stood willing to work out a solution with the AAU and I am sure federation officials continue to hold that position," said Walter Byers, executive director of the National Collegiate Athletic Association, which spawned the federation.

The dispute between the two organizations over the control of amateur sports in the country has raged for 2½ years. Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy, the President's brother, sat in on a meeting last month between the two groups in New York at which a solution apparently was reached.

But the agreement quickly fell apart.

The NCAA, through federations set up in track, gymnastics, basketball and baseball, has challenged the right of the AAU to certify athletes as eligible for international competition. The AAU holds the right under international rules.

Re-Shape Regatta Plans for Better Olympic Showing

NEW YORK (AP)—The Intercollegiate Rowing Association has taken the first step toward rectifying the poor showing made by U.S. oarsmen in the 1960 Olympics.

Making the first moves in a program they hope will aid U.S. rowers at the 1964 Tokyo Olympics, the IRA Wednesday changed the distance of the annual IRA Regatta to the Olympic course of 2,000 meters (1¼ miles).

The IRA Regatta, now rechristened the Syracuse Regatta, also will be held as a two-day event on Onondaga Lake in Syracuse, June 19 and 20. The 1963 edition remains a 3-mile event on one day, June 15.

The drastic shift from the 3-mile to 2,000-meter course was voted by the IRA's Board of Stewards, meeting at the 26th annual convention of the Eastern College Athletic Conference. The meeting continues today and Friday.

The change in the distance for the IRA Regatta was suggested by rowing coaches and the U.S. Olympic Rowing Committee. It was felt that since the Tokyo Olympics would be the goal of every college crew in 1964, every race that year should be rowed at that distance where possible.

Other business of the ECAC and its affiliates included:

The Eastern Intercollegiate Wrestling Association selected Cornell for the 1965 championships and the Heptagonal Games Association chose Cornell for the 1964 indoor championships.

The wrestling will be held March 12-13, the other Feb. 29.

Council Cocktail Party Attracts 225

More than 225 skiers attended the highly successful cocktail party of the Rip Van Winkle Ski Council at the Governor Clinton Hotel. All of the five member clubs—Belleayre S.C., Eastern Orange County Ski Club of Newburgh; the Nevasink S.C. of Monticello, the Hudson Valley Ski Club, Poughkeepsie, and the Trail Sweepers of Kingston — were represented.

A pair of Shortee skis, donated by the Heritage Sport Shop of Poughkeepsie was won by Susan Liberate of Poughkeepsie. A season pass was won by Trailsweeper Larry Gray. Proceeds of the Council promotion will be used to support the RVW Ski Council's junior program, while proceeds from the party will be used in the Council's growing program of competition.

John Spadaro and his orchestra provided music for the party held in the Crystal Lounge.

Clarkson and Cornell Skate to Hockey Wins

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Clarkson and Cornell skated off with hockey victories Wednesday night in the only action involving Upstate college teams.

Cornell, mounting a blazing offensive, overwhelmed Hamilton, 8-0, in a game at Ithaca. The Big Red scored twice in the first period, four times in the middle period and twice again in the final period.

Steve Poole, Jim Stevens and Jerry Kostandoss each scored two goals.

Clarkson rammed three goals into the net in a penalty-packed third period to defeat Yale, 7-2, at New Haven, Conn. Seven penalties were called in that period.

Arnold Lawlor led the scoring for Clarkson with two goals and an assist.

SCHOLASTIC CORNER

By ED PALLADINO

Monticello High School took advantage of a rarely used by-law the other night in its DUSO League game at Poughkeepsie. The Sullivan County school requested that its scheduled Jayvee game be called off, thus leaving only the varsity teams of the two schools to play.

This by-law has been in the books for the past few years and Monticello is only the second school to use it. The first was Fallsburgh and, oddly enough, it was also against Poughkeepsie.

WHY THE BY-LAW?

According to Secretary A. W. (Pete) Roberts of Ellenville, the by-law was made at the request of the schools in the Borscht Belt region of the League. Administrators were worried about the long time in traveling from places such as Fallsburgh, Monticello, Liberty, etc. to Poughkeepsie and other schools in the vicinity.

Again sticking our neck out where it probably doesn't belong, we say that the by-law is simply ridiculous.

If those village schools way up north don't want to keep the boys out late on a Tuesday night, they can do one of two things. Either drop from the DUSO City League or agree to play the games in the afternoon.

A HALF HOUR SAVED

In the case of the Monticello-Poughkeepsie game on Tuesday, the varsity game would have probably started at 8 o'clock, anyway, since the Tuesday jayvee contests have only six-minute quarters. With no preliminary, the varsity tilt got underway at 7:30. For the half hour it saved, the by-law isn't worth the paper it's printed on.

This six-minute setup for jayvee games is another gimmick that gets our attention. Is this fair to the coaches and the boys to practice basketball each night of the week and then to have them play only a 24-minute game?

If the administrators are worried about the late hours, maybe they can play only jayvee games in the afternoon, giving the boys a chance to play their eight-minute periods and still return home at a very early hour.

However, we do feel that this by-law which permits a club to postpone its Tuesday jayvee contest because of the long journey it might have to make is definitely not good. It just seems that anytime something is added to the league, it's always for the benefit of the village schools.

ROGER'S ANSWER

It always amuses us when a simple question isn't answered and there is always some beating around the bush. Last week, we asked Roger Doughty of the Poughkeepsie Journal about the alleged "poll" he made in order to select an All-DUSO Football team. His answer was that he didn't get a letter in time for the meeting and thus failed to attend.

We do not doubt Doughty's statement. However, it was the third straight meeting he failed to attend. His excuses for the other two was that the work load was too great. It might also interest Mr. Doughty to know that he was the only one who was sent a letter concerning the meeting.

If he were interested enough to check, he would have found that by-laws (that word again) of the DUSO Sportswriters and Broadcasters Assn. state that the meeting for selecting an All-DUSO football team shall be the Monday following the Thanksgiving Day game.

Perhaps the real reason for the Poughkeepsie representative not showing up is because he's simply ashamed to face his fellow writers and broadcasters after the "non-selling" job he did on the first annual DUSO League Awards Dinner.

He was so negligent on selling tickets for that event that even Sam J. Kalloch, the Poughkeepsie coach, wasn't told by Doughty about the dinner.

However, since Roger said he will be glad to show up at the next meeting, we will tell him as of now. The meeting will take place the Monday following the final league basketball game and it will be held here in Kingston. Is that enough advance notice?

Karl Plattner Ski Instructor At Hunter Bowl

Karl Plattner, a member of the 1952-54 Austrian National Ski Team, and former ski instructor at Mt. Snow and Boyne Mountain, has been named head of the Hunter Mountain Ski School for the fourth year it was announced this week by Israel and Orville Slutsky, new owners of the resort.

Assisting Plattner this season will be Harty Meyer, formerly associated with Stein Ericksen at Boyne Mountain, and former German Alpine Champ.

Plattner, one of the nation's most respected ski instructors, will command a squad of fifteen qualified instructors, male and female, and will be completely responsible for all instruction at the refurbished ski resort.

Work on the newest additions to existing facilities, including a completely new beginner's area, a new advanced trail and a new intermediate trail has been completed, and the area is anxiously awaiting the first heavy snowfall so that it can begin its fourth season in earnest.

Also named to positions at Hunter this year are Dick Olmsted and Harry Stern who will serve as co-leaders of the ten-man Hunter Mountain Ski Patrol.

Sterling Center Delays Opener

Unusual mild weather, which caused a late start in snow making, has delayed the official opening of Sterling Forest Ski Centre, Tuxedo, N. Y., to 9 a. m., Saturday, December 22, it was announced today.

Originally scheduled to open Saturday, December 15, the Ski Centre has not been able to make snow until late Sunday night December 2, when the temperature dropped below 30 degrees. To assure skiers the best snow conditions possible, the management has decided to postpone the official opening a week.

By then, all 3 slopes are expected to offer at least one foot of snow. There is a chance, however, that at least one slope will be ready to accommodate skiers arriving on the 15th.

KBA Points Out Error On 1963 Entry Blanks

An error in the handicap rules of the 1963 tournament entry blank was pointed up by KBA tournament manager, Bill Mohr, at the association meeting this week.

Mohr pointed out that the tournament handicap is based on 80 per cent of the 1961-1962 season highest average; not the 1960-61 season highest average as stated on the entry blanks.

Tournament entry blanks are now available at the Ferraro Bowlerama, Sangi's Bowlero, Mid-City Lanes, YMCA, Chalet in Rosendale and Boiceville Lanes.

The deadline for entries is midnight, January 15, 1963. The team event is scheduled Feb. 9-10 at the Bowlero, with singles and doubles, Feb. 16-17, at the Bowlerama.

The KBA's executive is stressing that this is the bowler's tournament and urges entries in all divisions, whether in the team event, doubles or singles. Individuals whose teams do not enter are still eligible to bowl in singles and doubles. Early entries get preference in choice of date and time of bowling.

Report on Prizes

Bill Einekel, chairman of the awards committee, announced the tournament trophy awards requirement for competitive bidding. The awards consist of individual trophies for the five-man net champs, team gross champions, doubles champions in both net and gross divisions; and net and gross trophies for winners in singles and all-events.

Special awards for the tourney include:

John Sangi Trophy — to the sponsor of the net championship team; John Ferraro Trophy—sponsor of gross championship team; Mayor Schwenk Trophy—to bowler rolling highest individual net score of tournament; Tom Orr Trophy—to bowler rolling highest gross in single score; Addison Jones Trophy—to highest net single game in singles event; Peter Keresman Trophy — to person bowling highest net three games in the entire tournament.

The cash prize list will be announced shortly after the January 15 deadline for filing entries. Last year's prize list totalled more than $3,000 in cash awards.

Nellie Fox Tops Second Basemen

BOSTON (AP) — Although Nellie Fox is supposed to have slowed down a step or two, the official 1962 American League averages serve as testimony that the veteran Chicago White Sox second baseman can still do more than an adequate job in the field.

The fielding statistics released Wednesday showed that Fox made only eight errors in 812 chances for a .990 average and topped the second basemen for the fifth time. He also led in 1952, 1954, 1956 and 1959.

Three other White Sox players took defensive honors. They were first baseman Joe Cunningham, who fielded .9942 to edge Kansas City's Norm Siebern at .9935, shortstop Luis Aparicio .973 and pitcher Ray Herbert, who handled 71 chances flawlessly. It was the fourth straight time Aparicio had paced the shortstops.

Baltimore's Brooks Robinson headed the third basemen for the third consecutive year. He fielded .973. Jimmy Piersall of Washington topped the outfielders with .997 and Elston Howard of the Yankees had the highest average among the catchers, .995.

The White Sox were first in club fielding with a .982 average. They were followed by Minnesota and Baltimore, .980 each and New York, Boston and Kansas City, .979 apiece.

The Twins led in double plays with 173.

Terry Baker Is Voted Greatest College Back

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Versatile Terry Baker, Oregon State's do-everything quarterback, was named the outstanding college football back in the nation today in an Associated Press poll of sportswriters and broadcasters.

Baker, who is being buried in an avalanche of honors in post-season activity, was a narrow choice over Jerry Stovall of Louisiana State. Miami's George Mira and Wisconsin's Ron VanderKelen followed in that order.

Baker previously had been named to the All-America team and had won the Heisman and Maxwell trophies. He was the No. 1 draft choice of the professional National Football League.

"You name it, and he can do it," one voter commented in casting his ballot for the slender, 195-pound Baker who finished with a career total of 4,980 yards gained, second highest in collegiate history.

Baker, however, edged Stovall by only two votes in the balloting by 132 sportswriters from coast to coast. Stovall, a powerful, explosive runner, was the only non-quarterback in the top five.

Baker, who passes left-handed, kicks with his right foot and pitches baseball right-handed, was the first draft choice of the Los Angeles Rams, who had the No. 1 pick in the NFL.

Baker gained 2,276 yards rushing and passing and threw 13 touchdown passes in leading Oregon State to an 8-2 record and a spot against Villanova this weekend.

Stevens, Tiger Named for Boxing Writer Awards

By MURRAY ROSE
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Dr. Marvin (Mal) Stevens, a noted orthopedic surgeon and a former football star and coach, and middleweight champion Dick Tiger of Nigeria were named today to receive the Boxing Writers Association's annual awards.

Stevens, chairman of the Medical Advisory Board of the New York Athletic Commission for 11 years and onetime head coach at Yale and New York University, was voted the James J. Walker Memorial Award "for long and meritorious service to boxing."

Tiger, the late blooming boxing king, was selected for the Edward J. Neal Memorial Plaque as the BWA's "Fighter of the Year."

Tiger, an average fighter until he came under the wing of manager Jersey Jones, made a meteoric rise in the last two years. He captured the British Empire middleweight crown and swept to the World Boxing Association title with a string of eight straight victories, including a decisive decision over WBA champion Gene Fullmer of West Jordan, Utah, last Oct. 23.

The Neil Trophy is named in honor of the former Associated Press sports writer who was killed while reporting the Spanish Civil War in 1937.

The Walker award is named for the late Mayor of New York who wrote the boxing laws of the state and was a firm friend of boxing.

Discarded Contact Lenses Avert Temple Cage Disaster

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

Bad eyesight, good insight and a pair of beat-up junior high school bifocals were the main topics of discussion today as Temple's Owls focused their attention on the strange events of victory No. 3.

Things went wrong for Temple at the start against Bucknell Wednesday night when Bob Harrington lost one of his contact lenses early in the first quarter. A search of the Palestra basketball court failed to locate the lost lens.

Harrington was forced to the bench and the Owls trailed. But Harrington was thinking, and quickly dispatched his three brothers to their home. Midway in the second half, the brothers returned wit the beat-up glasses Harrington hadn't worn since junior high school.

The 6-foot-2 junior went back into the game, got his eye on the basket and sank four straight baskets, putting Temple ahead to stay, 48-45, in a 61-53 triumph over the Bisons. In the second half of the Palestra double header, LaSalle clobbered Lehigh, 85-34.

Elsewhere, Bowling Green maintained its average winning spread of 50 points a game while walloping Miami of Ohio, 86-36; Kentucky reacted to a tongue-lashing by coach Adolph Rupp and belted Florida State, 83-54, and Navy edged Gettysburg, 65-63 on 2 foul shots with 2 seconds remaining by Ben Thomas, the Middies' first Negro cager.

In other top games, Bob Foley's 20-point performance led Army to a 73-61 victory over Buffalo, San Francisco defeated Oklahoma City, 86-74; Purdue got by Wabash, 73-64; Holy Cross thumped Harvard, 83-64, and Connecticut opened defense of its Yankee crown with an 85-64 decision over Massachusetts.

Reacting to Rupp's verbal broadsides after a narrow 56-52 decision over Temple Saturday, Kentucky's Wildcats hit 61.5 per cent of their shots in the first half and left Florida State way behind, 55-33.

AUTOMOTIVE

Used Cars For Sale

T'WAS THE Week before Christmas
When I looked at my car,
The model was old, and
Had been driven too far.

The inside was ripped,
The seat it was torn,
The brakes didn't work
And also the horn.

The windshield was busted,
The old clutch was broke,
The gas line was clogged
And so was the choke.

I cried and I moaned
And started to cuss,
Something had to be done
About my old bus.

So I went DOWN TO PARSONS
And am now all aglow,
Like their ad said
I got more for my dough.

Now I laugh at the bumps
And get mileage galore,
My new car looks swell and
Here's something more:

PARSONS sold me my car
On a long, easy plan,
My payments are low,
I'm now a happy man.

Decision to Quit Big Plane Not Questioned by AF

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Air Force says it has not questioned the bail-out decision of the commander of a tanker plane, which was abandoned over Central New York and flew itself over 1,000 miles into Labrador.

The 10-man crew of the four-engine KC-97 bailed-out of the plane over Watkins Glen Monday night because, they said, the plane had filled with smoke from a fire in a heater and they could no longer control the flames.

Unusual to 'Die Out'

In its first detailed comment on the strange flight, the Air Force said Wednesday the crew parachuted "with the full expectation that the aircraft would explode momentarily."

Since, the flames appeared uncontrollable, "it is most unusual" that the fire died out without the plane exploding, the Air Force said.

The crew set the plane on automatic pilot, headed north, before leaving. One crewman was killed in the jump.

The plane is believed to have come down around the mouth of the Hudson Strait, perhaps at sea off Labrador.

The Air Force said fighter planes under the North American Air Defense Command had been alerted to intercept and shoot down the empty plane if it showed signs of heading toward populated areas during its pilotless flight.

The Canadian Air Force said in Montreal, however, that the plane passed over Hudson Heights, a thickly populated suburb 30 miles west of Montreal.

Canadian jet planes took off from Bagotville, Que., to intercept and examine the plane, the U.S. Air Force said, and one of the fighters found it during a snowstorm.

Verifies Report

The jet pilot got close enough to verify that the landing gear and flaps were down and this agreed with the report of the tanker cr . "The verification was considered sufficient," the Air Force said, "and, since the tanker was headed for unpopulated areas, it was only tracked by ground radar thereafter."

The plane traveled lower and lower until the radar signals indicated it was in the north Labrador area, where it presumably went down, the Air Force said.

The plane's crew did not bail out until after they had exhausted the contents of all available fire extinguishers, the Air Force said. The plane, which had fueled a jet over Elmira, was traveling without a load. Air Force officers said the fumes in an empty tank were potentially more dangerous than a load of gasoline.

We The Women

Yule Shopping Game

BY RUTH MILLETT
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

To put a little extra fun into your Christmas shopping, make a private survey of the different types of women shoppers you encounter.

You'll probably find many others, but here are a few types you're bound to spot:

Mrs. Just Looking. If a customer comes right out and says frankly she is just looking, she may wind up buying something. Mrs. Just Looking is cagier with the clerk.

She pretends she really wants to buy something, but she is so quick to find fault with everything shown her that she gives herself away. And if she seems quite unconcerned with the price of what she looks at, that's another telltale sign. She has no intention of buying.

Mrs. VIS (Very Important Shopper). Shopping gives her a beautiful chance to throw her weight around. She casually, but oh, so obviously, lets the salesperson know that she wants only the best, that her closets are already bulging, that she is just back from a trip to some glamorous spot, or about to take one.

She'll be more interested in labels and names than in whether what she buys is worthwhile or serviceable.

Mrs. Indecisive. She has trouble just buying a handkerchief. She'll ask all kinds of questions, ask the salesperson's advice—or anybody who happens to be standing nearby—and then probably leave, still without having made up her mind.

If she does make a purchase, the chances are she'll bring it back the next day and exchange it for the thing she would have bought in the first place IF she could have made up her mind.

Mrs. Neighborly. She's the chatty type. She'll take up the clerk's time talking about her children, her diet or just about anything under the sun. Shopping is incidental.

You can spot all these types and lots of others in just one day's shopping. It's an amusing hobby, and best of all, it won't cost you anything.

Airman Killed

DOVER, Del. (AP)—A 22-year-old airman was killed early today when the car he was riding in went out of control and slammed into a tree alongside U.S. 13 near Dover.

Judges to Study Variations in Court Sentences

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—The first institute ever held for New York State judges to explore sentencing of prisoners will open here Friday.

Chief Judge Charles F. Desmond of the Court of Appeals, the state's highest ranking jurist, said the two-day institute would concentrate on "equitable administration of the criminal laws."

Variations in sentences imposed on different persons convicted on the same charges have been of concern to judicial leaders.

1,200 Workers Get Kennedy Greeting

WASHINGTON (AP) — With gifts, season's greetings—and an unexpected visit from 5-year-old Caroline—President and Mrs. Kennedy have wished a "Merry Christmas" to some 1,200 people who work in the White House and executive offices.

The Kennedys entertained at a two-hour White House reception Wednesday night, and gave each guest a 15-by-17 inch watercolor print of the Red Room, done over in cerise shades and empire decor as part of Mrs. Kennedy's redecorating project.

County Share Is $15,591 for Motor Vehicle Receipts

Ulster County's share of motor vehicle tax receipts is $15,591.77, State Comptroller Arthur Levitt announced today.

The fund represents a drop of $4,855.24 from the $20,447.01 received in the county for the period ending Sept. 30, 1961. The $15,951.77 share is for the period ending Sept. 30, 1962.
